Allies Deny Nazi Claim Calais Has Been Taken

Germany Claims Attacks Made On Paris Airdromes

Nazis Continue To Insist That Calais Has Fallen Into Their Hands

BERLIN FORESEES SLOWER PROGRESS

German Communique Announces Ring Is Tightening Around Allies

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 27.—With the Allied armies in Flanders and Artois surrounded, German war planes brought hostilities to the gates of Paris with a series of attacks on airdromes ringing the French capital, the Nazi high command announced today.

In a detailed resume of developments within the last 24 hours, military headquarters continued to insist that Calais had fallen to the Germans and that the combined Belgian, British and French forces trapped in the Valenciennes sector faced a hopeless situation.

Desperate Resistance

The Allied armies within the German "sack" are putting up desperate resistance, but according to military dispatches in Berlin are being gradually decimated. Military sources said that the majority of the troops do not know they are trapped.

Belief was expressed in Berlin that German progress will be slower during the next few days with German occupation of the entire channel coast behind the "sack" the immediate objective.

All Berlin newspapers featured the announced capture of Calais under the heading: "Jumping-off Place to England."

German quarters denied Allied claims of heavy damages by air bombers behind the German lines.

Proclamation

WHEREAS: On Tuesday, May 28, 1940, the employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will hold their second annual B. & O. Day in New Castle, a day set aside by them to focus the attention of the public upon the importance of the railroad to New Castle.

The Baltimore and Ohio is an important unit in the economic life of New Castle. Its shops and facilities here are a key point of the B. & O. System. The payroll of the Company is an important contribution to the purchasing power of the City, and the employes are numbered among our best citizens.

THEREFORE: As Mayor of the City of New Castle, I proclaim Tuesday, May 28th, as B. & O. Day in New Castle, and I call upon the entire citizenry to co-operate to the extent that the day may be a memorable one. In honoring this great transportation company, we honor ourselves. Present at the formal celebration in the Cathedral will be many of the men who are responsible for the management of the railroad. Their visit to New Castle should be made one they will remember with pleasure and satisfaction.

CHAS. B. MAYNE,
Mayor.

Program Ready For B. & O. Day

Second Annual B. & O. Day To Be Observed Here On Tuesday

DINNER EVENT AT CATHEDRAL

Joining with the management and employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, New Castle citizens will observe B. & O. Day Tuesday May 28th, the second annual day of its kind to be held here. Executives of the railroad from Baltimore, Cincinnati, and Pittsburgh will be present to aid in the observance, the climax of which will be a dinner-dance in the Cathedral at six thirty o'clock.

R. A. Garrigus, general car foreman of the shops here, and the chairman of the Co-Operative Traffice Plan Group, sponsoring group of the day is the general chairman and with him has been working a group of committees in the past six weeks. Plans have been ready for a week or more and the crowd Tuesday night is expected to top that of last year when about 850 attended.

Luncheon At Noon

A luncheon to the distinguished guests will be held at noon in the Field club and the afternoon given over to golf. At six thirty the dinner will start in The Cathedral dining rooms with C. J. Roessel, division freight agent of Youngstown as the toastmaster.

F. B. Mitchell, general manager of the lines west will be the principal speaker with the famous Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Glee Club presenting the entertainment.

During the evening the fortunate boy or girl of the county who is adjudged the winner of the essay contest will be presented with the credentials for a trip to the New York fair, with all expenses paid. Two cash prizes will be presented as second and third awards.

The evening's event will close with a dance in the crystal ball room.

Part Of Former Site Of Standard Car Co. Sold For New Industry

Between three and four acres of the former Standard Steel Car Works industrial property on Mahoning avenue—the vast tract purchased recently by the Greater New Castle Association to speed its industrial promotion program—today was sold to Mooney Bros., local cement block manufacturers and contract haulers.

Announcement of the sale of the property, which includes the office building and the power building of the old car works plant, was made by Executive Vice President Arthur H. Andrews of the Greater New Castle organization.

For Manufacturing Purpose

Andrews said the property will be used by the Mooney firm for the manufacture of cement products, supplementing their present production of cement building blocks.

The new product, he said, will include wall coping, pier caps, lintels, slabs and other special shapes used in construction work. It is under-

British Believe Allies Facing Critical Week; Deny Calais Is Taken

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

LONDON, May 27—On a scale comparable to or even exceeding that of imperial Germany's last desperate effort to win the World war of 1918, the Nazi steamroller is moving forward in an attempt to deal a death blow to troops of the British expeditionary forced ringed about in France and Belgium, according to competent information in London tonight.

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 27.—With the battle for the French channel ports reaching a climax and fighting on the western front steadily becoming more furious, the Allies today faced what may prove one of the most critical weeks of the war.

Somber realization of the terrific nature of the struggle with its immediate dangers for England was evident on every hand, but there was no sign of hysteria.

The nation proceeded grimly to build up precautionary measures against an attack from within or without ADNC concentrated on its gigantic armaments drive, while drafting new man-power into the armies at home and overseas.

Crowds Line Waterfront

The public eagerly followed the changing fortunes of the tremendous struggle across the English channel particularly the battle of the British expeditionary force to escape complete isolation. Great crowds lined the southeastern channel waterfront, watching vivid flashes and the dull red glows of fires lighting the sky and listening to the thudding explosions.

Stories reached London telling of magnificient work at the Royal Air force and won full British admiration, but the public was warned nevertheless that the allies have by no means attained supremacy in the air. Official announcement, however that last week's British aircraft production in all spheres was the greatest of the war was viewed as an encouraging factor.

Churches Give Generously To War Relief Fund

Splendid Response Is Indicated By Incomplete Reports This Morning

OTHER FINE GIFTS REPORTED TODAY

Contributions received in local churches Sunday were most generous, incomplete reports received this morning indicate, while local theaters, which took collections Saturday also turned in a splendid amount this morning, assuring the success of the War Relief Fund campaign which is being conducted by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Indications now point to the fact that the quota of $9,000 assigned to Lawrence county will be attained some time this week. The next report meeting will take place Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Chairman Ross D. Rosenberger announced today.

Large Contributions

One individual contribution, which was given anonymously, and which was received by the chapter today, totaled $500, the biggest amonut received in the campaign to date. New Wilmington borough attained its quota of $500, this sum being brought to the Chapter office today by Chairman W. Filmore Campbell. Other large contributions noted today was that of The News Co. for $100. This is exclusive of individual contributions of employes.

Among the churches which reported this morning on the collections taken Sunday, were the following: First Presbyterian church, $431.35; Highland U. P. church, $137. St. Joseph's church, $65.

Collections taken in the theaters Saturday totalled $309.66.

Over $6,000

These amounts, reported this morning, added to the previous total of $4,678.74, which was reported by the team captains and workers at the end of the week, brought the total this morning to $6,167.50.

Reports will likely be received from the campaigns in the outlying

Services For War Dead Take Place Sunday

Two Services Are Conducted By Veteran And Patriotic Organizations

RAIN CUTS SHORT SERVICES AT BRIDGE

Rain interfered with the water services annually conducted by the Ladies of the G. A. R., at the North street bridge, but did not prevent their taking place, and it also cut into the attendance at the Memorial services which followed in the First Presbyterian church, Sunday evening.

Rain started falling just as the services at the bridge started and the address which had been prepared by Rev. R. M. Patterson, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church was curtailed, because of conditions.

The participants assembled at the City Building, and marched to the bridge, where the services were begun a few minutes earlier than scheduled, due to the threat of rain which started falling just as the service got under way.

The ritualistic ceremony of the Ladies of the G. A. R. was presented, with Mrs. Minnie Mayers presiding. Music was furnished by the Croton School band and the Cadet Band of the Perry S. Gaston post.

The invocation was given by Lester McClelland, of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, following which a brief address appropriate to the occasion was given by Prof. W. A. Hoffmaster, principal of the North street and Croton Avenue schools.

In closing a volley was fired by a firing squad from Troop K, 103rd Cavalry, PNG, and taps were blown

Mother, Daughter Hurt In Accident

Mrs. Margaret Veach And Daughter Injured As Auto And Bus Collide

Mrs. Margaret Veach and daughter, Margaret (Peggie) of 1707 Delaware avenue, were injured, the former seriously and the latter critically when the auto which Mrs. Veach reportedly was operating collided with a Penn-Ohio coach lines bus on the State street hill at 7:05 p. m. Sunday.

The mother sustained a fracture of her right knee cap and serious body bruises. The daughter sustained a fracture of her skull, broken right arm and right leg, and shock. Both are in the Jameson Memorial hospital where they were hurried in an ambulance shortly after the accident.

According to reports made to police, Mrs. Veach was driving down the hill and the P-O bus, assertedly operated by Walter Johnson of Girard, was proceeding up the hill at the curve near the Sinclair gas station. The auto struck the side of the bus, it is reported.

Reports state that it was raining at the time and that the driver turned the wheels of his bus to the right in an effort to avoid the accident.

Mrs. V. Urban and others residing in the vicinity heard the crash and gave aid to the injured until the arrival of an ambulance.

ANNOUNCE GERMAN PLANE LOSSES FOR 17 DAYS AT 2,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 27—"The Germans have lost more than 2,000 planes since May 10," a Paris radio broadcast intercepted by N. B. C. in New York stated today.

The French announcement described the German plane losses as "certainly double our losses," adding that German numerical aircraft superiority has been considerably reduced.

Deadly New French Fighter Plane Attacks Nazi Armored Vehicles

By KENNETH DOWNS

WITH THE FRENCH AIR FORCE IN THE NORTH May 26—A deadly new French fighter has successfully attacked German armored vehicles, French authorities claimed today.

I had the fortune to be with the air force on this red letter day when the electrifying report was received that the fighter plane, using its cannon in dive attacks, destroyed a large-sized German tank and one armored car.

While it would be foolish to try to evaluate the importance of this event until further tests are made, even non-military observers who have been following the course of the war for the past two weeks can see tremendous potentialities in such news.

In my first trip to the airforce front since May 10, I saw the truly gigantic proportions of their task.

British Round Up 1,500 Women Enemy Aliens

Lightning Drive Is Made By Scotland Yard Detectives In London

By JOSEPH THOMAS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 27.—In a lightning drive, a thousand Scotland Yard detectives rounded up 1,500 women enemy aliens today, gave them only time to pack their bags and trucked them off to concentration camps—all within a few hours.

The 1,500 arrests were confined to London alone as police throughout the country rounded up hundreds more for internment for the duration of the war.

All women prisoners fell in the "Class B" category as defined in the new enemy alien laws and were arrested following the decision of Home Secretary Sir John Anderson to place persons in this class in internment without further re-examination.

Although it was the largest single raid of the day, other police trailed many well known figures who have been implicated, authorities indicated, by documents found in a police raid on the home of Sir Oswald Mosley, British Fascist leader.

Sensational arrests were promised later in the week as a result of the documents.

Flanders Battle Reaching Peak French Report

Germans Concentrating All Efforts On Northern Allied Army

FRENCH ALSO DENY CALAIS IS TAKEN

Nazi Attacking Forces Are Suffering Terrific Losses, French Claim

By JOHN MACVANE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 27—The battle of Flanders reached its peak today as Germany's forces concentrating all efforts on the northern Allied army, hammered terrific blows at Belgian forces near Menin and Courtrai.

At the same time French forces, exposed "too much in the Apex"— according to a French military spokesman—withdrew in the north, retiring to prepared positions behind Valenciennes.

Today's French communique, telling of violent fighting in Belgium, said the Germans suffered "heavy losses."

Deny Calais Taken

The French spokesman flatly denied German claims that Calais had been captured by Nazi troops yesterday. He said this channel port, only 22 miles from the British channel port of Dover, was still in French hands at 9 a. m. today.

EDITOR'S NOTE: A Reuters (British) dispatch from Paris quoted French military circles as stating the channel port of Calais was still held by French troops at 9 a. m. Germany yesterday claimed its troops had captured Calais, situated only 22 miles from the British channel port of Dover.)

The battle intensified yesterday, lasted all through last night and was still raging this morning, according to the French spokesman. He said:

"The enemy is attacking at numerous points, sometimes over large fronts, with considerable effectives and enormous amounts of material."

Terrific Losses

He indicated the German mechanized panzer divisions are relentlessly pounding the lines of the northern Allied armies "regardless of the loss of lives and material, which most certainly must be terrific."

The spokesman said the Germans were disregarding life "mercilessly" in an effort to break the Belgian line, adding that this effort had been thwarted.

But he admitted that withdrawal under pressure of the British and Belgian forces had caused the French order for the retirement behind Valenciennes in order not to leave the French forces exposed in an "Apex" position.

Despite terrific enemy attacks and Allied retirements, the spokesman added, the French first impression of the battle was "not unfavorable."

During the day yesterday, particularly later in the afternoon, he said, the Germans launched two at-

Allied Troops Standing Up Well

London Reports Superb Heroism

Germans Flinging "Stupendous Weight" Into Calais Attack

AWAIT OUTCOME WITH CONFIDENCE

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 27.—Fighting with "superb heroism", allied troops are "standing up well" against ceaseless attacks by German forces, particularly at Calais, authoritative military circles declared today.

The curtain of silence was not lifted on actual details of military operations except for announcement that the Germans are flinging a "stupendous weight" of heavy tanks against Calais in an effort to take the strategic seaport.

Outcome of the battle is awaited with "courage and confidence", it was said.

Continue Denial

London, May 27.—British government quarters today steadfastly denied German claims that Nazi forces have captured the French channel port of Calais, only 22 miles from the British port of Dover.

The ministry of information announced:

"Messages emanating from Germany still assert Calais is in German hands. These statements are without foundation. Calais remains in possession of the allies."

SERVICES FOR WAR DEAD TAKE PLACE SUNDAY

by Charles Marshall, a member of Neshannock Post, No. 315, V. F. W.

At First Church

Re-assembling the marchers despite the rain, paraded down Croton avenue, over Washington street to the Diamond and up Jefferson street, to the First Presbyterian church, where the annual Memorial service was conducted with Rev. Dr. John J. McIlvaine delivering the sermon.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, a bower of flowers having been erected at the altar, which were backed by the flags and standards of the various veteran organizations.

A gold star, made of orange-colored flowers, was super-imposed over a helmet and cartridge belt, and in the center of the altar was a white cross, where later in the service, white flowers were placed by the officers of the various posts for those members who have died during the war. The decorations were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Round, and were the creation of Mrs. Round.

Dr. McIlvaine stressed the debt which the citizens of this nation owe to the heroic war dead, who created and preserved this nation which is now the greatest nation in the world. He also paid tribute to the mothers, who gave to this country the splendid sons many of whom gave themselves that this nation might survive.

Members of the various organizations who passed away during the year, and in whose memory flowers were placed at the altar were:

G. A. R.—Post Commander David M. Clark, Conrad Froburgh.

United Spanish War Veterans—John W. Allen, George W. Muse, Clifford W. Fenton and Thomas Varley.

Harry L. McBride Post, V. F. W. Leo Dugan and Edward Gilbert.

Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion—W. D. Park, Roy B. Graham, Donald Williams, Oliver White and William Black.

tacks in the Valenciennes which were powerfully supported but "nevertheless weaker than the onslaughts further north."

Attacks Repulsed

These attacks were repulsed with considerable losses to the Germans, according to the spokesman, who said:

"Naturally it is impossible to state the exact prepared positions to which the Valenciennes forces have been withdrawn."

The Citadel at the channel port of Boulogne, which had been defended by a valiant band of French soldiers, fell into German hands yesterday afternoon, the spokesmen admitted.

There were no details regarding the actual storming of the Citadel. But the fall of the Citadel was known to have followed fierce hand-to-hand fighting in the streets of Boulogne and, it was said, "probably" occurred only when the defenders, either were almost annihilated or had run out of ammunition.

Greatest In History

This battle of Flanders is probably the greatest defensive battle in history, in the view of French officials. The French spokesman in picturesque language said the Germans are expending a "great luxury of means"—which in military language means they are putting forward almost all of their mechanized effort.

But it was emphasized that the Allies are fighting back grimly and inflicting irreparable losses upon the Germans, particularly in material. (Here one word censored.)

On the Somme river (here two wards censored) the cleaning up of enemy elements on the left bank has now ended. The operations consisted of seizing as many bridgeheads along the river as possible and consolidating positions.

Further east only local engagements were reported and these were claimed to be favorable to the Allies.

There were no developments throughout the day along the remainder of the eastern end of the front, it was stated.

Allied Planes Attack

Allied planes were reported keeping up their "terrible" bombings of enemy troop concentrations, railroads and communications, while, said the spokesman, the Germans bombed English air fields "for the first time."

"In the north," stated the French war communique," the enemy continues his attacks, chiefly in the region of Menin, but French and Allied troops are holding his advance, the fighting is extremly violent and the Germans without regard to the heavy losses suffered are throwing numerous powerfully armed effectives into action.

(Menin is situated on the Lys river in Belgium, roughly ten miles southwest of Courtrai. It is near the Belgo-French border, about 15 miles north of Lille, France.)

"In the region of Valenciennes (on the northwestern corner of the quadrangle where the battle of Flanders is raging) we have during the night withdrawn our troops which are in line with the Schelde river to a position assigned them according to plan," the communique added.

"On the front along the Somme and Aisne rivers and to the east there were no events of importance."

A previous French communique said whole sections of German infantry were "mowed down on the spot" in the furious battle raging along the front extending to the channel port of Boulogne.

The French have splintered the German wedge along this salient and cut the 25-mile Nazi line in half, it was announced.

To the north and to the south of the Somme, Allied forces have advanced deeper into the German salient, it was claimed. To the north the British have driven their pincer viciously into the German lines and in the south the French have done the same, the bulletin stated.

stood that this line of products are not being manufactured in New Castle, but are shipped in from outside.

Mooney Bros. have acquired the latest machinery for the manufacture of these products and it is expected that it will be delivered and set up ready for operation within two weeks.

At the beginning, from eight to 10 additional workmen will be employed, Andrews stated.

Second New Industry

Acquisition of the property by the Mooney concern follows on the heels of the announcement of the coming of a new plant—the O. Hommel Co., of Pittsburgh—to the Pulaski district. The Greater New Castle Association also played a major role in that firms negotiations. The Hommel plant will manufacture ceramic supplies.

The Hommel company has purchased another of the buildings standing on the old Standard Steel Car property here and will shortly move it to Pulaski. The structure is 250x80 feet in size.

districts at the report meeting Wednesday. All have reported satisfactory progress is being made, but no complete reports have been received at the Chapter Office, outside the report from New Wilmington, it is stated.

Fifteen per cent of the amount raised in the county will be retained here to purchase supplies, which are being made into garment sweaters, and socks, by a corps of women workers under the production department of the chapter, it was announced by Chapter Chairman Ralph F. Davis today.

In a telegram to the Chapter today, National Chairman Norman Davis says in part: "Every cable from our representatives in France paints a blacker and more appalling picture of conditions among the million refuges fleeing from the battle zones. Stockings have had to be cut from the lacerated and blistered feet of refugees who have finally reached a haven of safety. There are pens of frightened, unidentified children under eight years of age at every refugee concentration point. Let us be prompt in sending help."

FAITH

We attended a wonderful service yesterday, when two flags were presented to the Italian Methodist church. One the United States flag, by one of the leading patriotic organizations of the country, and the other one the Christian flag, by one of our leading citizens.

This solemn occasion, and the wonderful talks that were given by prominent citizens who assisted in the service, were certainly suitable under the present conditions of the world.

Love of country or love of anything beautiful, once seeded in the young people's hearts and minds, can never be erased for the duration of their lives, and we can never do enough in bringing to their attention examples that are bound to mould their character in the right direction, and if it is not done at their tender age, they will be made easy prey to subversive propaganda by the demagogues whose interest it is to destroy any attempt to build, by striking at the foundation.

Patriotic memorials are necessary in the country today to educate and teach our younger generation to be ready to meet the future.

MISS ENGLAND TELLS DATE AT LUNCHEON

At a lovely luncheon party given Saturday afternoon at a prominent tea room in New Wilmington, Mrs. C. M. England of 236 Edgewood avenue, presided in the role of hostess for her daughter, Miss Margaret England, bride-elect of George Herchenroether, of Pittsburgh, when the date "September 14, 1940" was revealed for her wedding day.

The occasion was in progress at 1 o'clock, the group of 20 guests being served at a table beautifully appointed in pastels, and the silver theme predominated. The news was cleverly told with a unique arrangement of miniature telephones, and "three tiny town" telephone poles, silvered with wires of the same, labeled "New Castle"-Pittsburgh" and "New Wilmington." Dangling from the wires, were silver letters which read "Peggy And George—September 14, 1940." Miniature silvered telephones were used as place markers, the entire setting being an original of Miss Helen Hurst. Miss Hurst later presented the honoree with a handsome brocaded silver book lettered "Wedding Memories" as a personal gift.

Miss England, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. England of Edgewood avenue, this city, will become the bride of George Herchenroether, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Herchenroether of Pittsburgh in Westminster chapel.

SECTION ONE WILL TOUR LOCAL POTTERY

WEDDING AT WARREN OF INTEREST LOCALLY

The marriage of Helen Lillian Pelto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pelto of Bessemer, and William Paajanen, son of Mr. Gabriel Paajanen of R. D. No. 4, Warren, Ohio, was solemnized at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Finnish Lutheran church of Warren, Ohio. The Rev. Einar Lehto of the Finnish Lutheran church of New Castle officiated, with the Rev. Rautanen of the Finnish Lutheran church of Warren, assisting.

The bride was lovely in a white organdy gown with insertion trimming, and a halo cap of illusion and eyelet embroidery. Her illusion veil was fingertip length. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and baby's breath, and her only ornament was a pearl necklace, belonging to her mother.

Miss Irma Pelto, her sister's maid of honor, wore blue organdy, and her veil was shoulder length. She carried pink roses and delphinium. Nancy Kiminkinen, small cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore pink organdy and halo cap of pink taffeta.

George Paajanen was his brother's best man, and Reynold Kiminkinen, Ralph Lightner, Arnold Wargelin, and Arthur Paajanen were ushers.

Preceding the ceremony, George Pelto and Joseph Martin played two violin duets, Schubert's "Serenade" and "Humoresque" by Dvorak. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Kiminkinen. She also accompanied Russell Lake of Cleveland, Ohio, who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The "Lohengrin Bridal Chorus" was the processional and the recessional was "Mendelssohn's Wedding March."

After the ceremony, an informal reception was held in the church, where the table was decorated with lilacs. The wedding cake was the centerpiece, and a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Pelto, Mr. Paajanen, and the groom's sister, Mrs. Ralph Lightner were in the receiving line. Mrs. Pelto wore a rose lace afternoon dress, with white accessories. Mrs. Lightner wore navy blue crepe with white accessories. Their corsages were of gardenias.

Following, the bride and bridegroom left for a post-nuptial trip to Columbus and Washington. For travelling, the bride wore a dusty rose crepe dress, navy blue redingote, and navy accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white roses.

The bride was formerly employed by the Strouss-Hirshberg Company in this city. The groom is a member of the Ohio State Highway patrol. Upon their return, they will reside in Steubenville, Ohio, where Mr Paajanen is stationed.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Cleveland, Ohio, New York City, Springfield, Ohio, Youngstown, Ohio, Bessemer, Pa., Lowellville, Ohio, and New Castle, Pa.

Honored At Shower

Mrs. William Woodworth, Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Stright entertained at a miscellaneous shower, held Friday evening at The Castleon in honor of Sophia Buchner, who will be married on June 1.

Three tables of bridge were in play, prizes going to Mrs. Walter Stone and Mrs. Lawrence Carothers.

Later a dainty lunch was served with decorations being carried out in orchid and yellow.

The honored guest received many lovely gifts to use in her future home.

To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Stoner, of 131 Water street, will observe their fifty-second wedding anniversary on Tuesday.

Mr. Stoner was a former oil driller, retiring about ten years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoner are in fairly good health.

COUPLE HONORED BY E. T. W. KENSINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jones, who are leaving the city, were again feted Saturday evening by the E. T W Kensington at an elaborate turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Milholland on Winter avenue.

Following dinner served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs Thomas Lindsay and Mrs. James Gilfillan, an electric clock was presented the honored couple in the unique manner of James Gilfillan, who, as a judge, sentenced them to a happy future in their new locality.

Games and contests were enjoyable diversions of the evening, with Mrs. Thomas Lindsay capturing the grand prize.

Scott-Foster Home Wedding

Before an embankment of lilacs and garden flowers Thursday, May 23, Miss Sara Belle Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scott of Enon Valley, and W. Gray Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Foster of New Galilee, were united in marriage by the Reverend W. W. Willis, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of New Galilee.

The couple were unattended. The bride was attired in a street-length dress of white and wore a corage of roses and sweet peas.

Fifteen minutes of appropriate music was played by Mrs. C. H. Todd, aunt of the groom.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the immediate families. The couple left at once on a short motor trip through western Pennsylvania taking in many points of historical interest. For traveling the bride wore an ensemble of navy and white. On their return the couple will reside in their newly-furnished home near Enon Valley.

Mrs. Foster has taught for the last three years in the New Sewickley Township schools in Beaver county while the groom has been employed in the Armstrong Cork Works of Beaver Falls.

Progressive Club

Regular meeting of the Progressive club will be held Tuesday with Mrs. Carl Groetsch, Leasure avenue, and not Wednesday as scheduled.

CLIPPERS OVER THE SEA

A YEAR has passed since the first Clipper plane took off on scheduled flight for Europe. In spite of war and the disorganization of all ordinary systems of trans-Atlantic transport, the Clippers have maintained a remarkably regular service over the sea and have carried impressive totals of passengers and air mail.

Passenger list for the year includes 2,174 names. About 234,000 pounds of mail was carried. Average air mail letter weighs less than half an ounce, so the number of letters that have traveled by air between the two continents may be close to 10,000,000.

It is a matter for congratulation to the operating company that no serious accident has marred the year. There have been delays, mainly due to bad weather. But most travelers have no complaint against an operating policy which takes no chances in the face of Atlantic storms.

Whenever the war is over there will be better opportunity to reckon the value of air routes to Europe. Under the abnormal conditions of the past year the service proved profitable. It was very useful, too, to travelers unable to wait for the slower and uncertain ocean liners still in service.

The war gave American aviation almost a clear field in pioneering trans-Atlantic travel. Experience gained in the first year's operations will help to hold that advantage when the war ends.

TENT CATERPILLARS ON THE MARCH

Pestilential hordes of tent caterpillars are again on the march in Pennsylvania, ravaging garden and orchard and countryside as they go. For some reason, doubtless clear to those who keep in touch with caterpillar comings and goings, the ugly crawlers are unusually abundant this spring. Trees and bushes, marked by the telltale tents woven in their forks, to which the gregarious creatures repair after their dawn and twilight gorgings, are already, their leaves scarcely out, laid bare.

Wild cherry trees are the special delight of tent caterpillars, but they will not turn down other fruit trees. For a change in diet they frequently put rose bushes on their ininerary. They work fast, and don't stop until their victim is entirely defoliated.

Burning them out from their tents is one way of combatting them, but it is not recommended, as the trees may be permanently injured. The most satisfactory method is application of arsenate of lead, either by spraying or dusting it on the foliage where the pests are feeding.

The time to get after these creatures, if countless numbers of trees and bushes are to be spared, is now.

PROBLEM OF STOPPING TANKS

Among factors contributing to the great momentum which the Nazi military machine achieved in Belgium and France was the apparent failure of the Allies to realize the power and resistance to attack of the gigantic tanks which the Germans are using. As an added touch, Hitler's rolling fortresses are equipped with a flame-throwing attachment which literally leaves nothing but the blackened earth after it has passed on.

In their invasion of Spain the Germans tried out six-ton tanks protected by three-tenths of an inch of armor plate. They were found to be inadequate. Tanks now invading France are reported to range from thirty to eighty tons. There are rumors of some weighing as much as one hundred tons. The monsters carry machine guns and guns measuring from 77 to 105 millimeters.

At the beginning of the war the standard French anti-tank gun was the 25 millimeter type. Its use against the Nazi behemoths was not effective. The French then speedily marshalled their 75 mm. guns, said to be capable of destroying any tank. There are thousands of them. Placed strategically when the invasion began, they might have stopped it. But the German momentum was achieved and now the Allied task is many times greater.

The lesson for the United States from the war in France is that ingenuity plays a vital part in preparedness. What this nation needs now is armament that is more efficient, more deadly and more voluminous than anything the dictators can make or steal.

The need is for newer and better tanks, newer and better anti-tank defenses, newer and better airplanes. It is a great job that only industry can do. Politicians appointed to important key posts in the nation's preparedness drive will insure its failure.

THE "SINK OF GIVONNE"

The "Sink of Givonne" is the name commonly given to Sedan which has been the site of important battles but none so much so as that which is being waged there now.

Napoleon called it a bowl. No place could be better devised to shut in an army. Once in it and the way out barred there has been, in the past, no exit.

This may be the reason that the French were willing to evacuate it without much resistance.

Time will tell whether it was a trap which they set for the Germans and into which they, in their confidence that they could fight their way out, advanced against little resistance.

There is no page in French history that shows so much carelessness and over-confidence as the army of France exhibited there in 1870 when they were overwhelmed by a German force which they wrongly supposed was forty or fifty miles away.

As a direct result of this battle around Sedan France lost the Franco-Prussian War. It is likely that the lesson learned there has not been forgotten by France.

In the World War the Germans were in possession of this city of about twenty-five thousand people from August 25, 1914 to November 8, 1918 when it fell into the hands of the Allies by joint action of American and French troops at which time the Americans permitted the French to enter first as a gesture in view of the part of the "Sink of Givonne" had played in French history.

Its place in the strategy and outcome of the present war is not yet determined but enough has been learned to show that the "Sink of Givonne" has been draining off great streams of blood.

A new minister to Canada must be appointed anon, and there probably won't be much trouble about filling Jimmy Cromwell's shoes, provided they're stretched.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CREDITS FOR AMBITION

"BRAINS," health, and willingness to study hard should be the only basic requirements for the privilege of a college education. Unfortunately, many a deserving youth is denied college because his parents haven't the necessary cash. There would be far fewer of these if all the money wasted on both dull and bright youths who are sent to college without having acquired the will to work hard could be turned to helping more deserving girls and boys get the chance to go to college.

Fortunately the night college is available to many working youths who care to take advantage of it, though many fail to take this opportunity to learn while they earn.

The Junior Colleges

About the biggest boon to youth with limited means is the junior college. There are now 575 of them in the United States with a total enrollment of 197,710. This is an increase of 41% in number and of 291% in enrollment since 1928. Most of the enrollment is in those supported by public funds.

The National Youth Administration has made it possible for many students to take advantage of the local junior college; also it has enabled hundreds of students in colleges away from home to carry on.

I'm enthusiastic over the public junior college. It puts two years of college within the reach of hundreds of youths otherwise denied such education. Besides, it enables many young men and women who are not yet able to profit from taking sole responsibility for their guidance, to have the stabilizing influence of the home and family for two years beyond high school. Remember this, that the public junior college develops in a community in which enough parents want it. If it is a good public service for one community, it should be so for most communities.

An Opportunity

Parents whose sons and daughters are sent to college with money for luxury several times the amount needed for essentials might, if they cared, render a valuable service if they put their child on a reasonable budget at college and were to divert some of the money to scholarships for bright poor boys and girls. I believe that some of these well-to-do parents of a son or daughter about to enter college, who would think this matter through, might arrive at the conclusion that such procedure would bring them a vast deal of personal satisfaction. What is more, they might consider it favorable to the best moral education of their own child, enabling him to grow less selfish.

Let me add that I believe many parents are making too great sacrifices in order to send a son or daughter to college. Too often their reward is only an ungrateful, selfish child. Often the most selfish and ungrateful children are those whose parents have made the greatest self-denials for them. What do you think about it?

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My baby, 13 months of age, refuses to take milk from a glass but will drink orange juice and water

A. Keep on trying, patiently, encouraging him to help hold the cup or glass. Try him with very little in the cup, again with it brim full. Also try to get him to drink from a full nursing bottle with a large mouth, before putting the nipple on it. Show no emotion whatsoever over it. With no success after six months of patience, have the bottle disappear, making a ceremony of its disappearance. Thow it out of sight or bury it as he look on—never bringing it back.

NO POLITICIAN

He would not kiss the babies as he went along his way.
He believed that public business should no more than others
pay;
He insisted on insisting on economy
in fact,
Which for any politician was a curious way to act.

He said: "I made a promise to the people of the town
If they voted me in office I would cut the taxes down.
And I mean to keep my pledges," so he fired a dozen clerks,
Saying: "One is all that's needed,
if he's honest and he works."

He refused to pose for pictures just to further spread his fame,
And on every civic project he refused to splash his name.
He was early at his office and upon the job he stayed.
He respected all the people, but no favorites he played.

He tried running public business in a private tradesman's way,
But the things they said about him filled his family with dismay.
He was honest; he was truthful; he was earnest and sincere,
But he was no politician—so he didn't last a year.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:20. Sun rises tomorrow 4:33.

It used to be a long way to Europe by the way of the ocean, but it's only a short distance now.

Livery stable loafers have been replaced by filling station loafers, but they don't enjoy themselves as the livery stable loafers did in the yesteryears.

It may have been all right to trade horses in the middle of a stream in the old days, but it would not be so easy to trade automobiles in the middle of a stream.

A man, according to his wife, (whose name is withheld) called on a local doctor to see if anything could be done to prevent him from snoring.

"I snore so loud I wake myself up," said the man.

"Perhaps you'd better sleep in another room," the doctor suggested.

One great trouble with the young people of today is that they have the old ones for example.

A woman writer says women are not warlike. Some married men would dispute that.

Putting up a front is one way to hide a human weakness.

SOME JUNE WISDOM

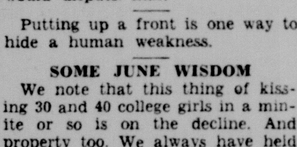

We note that this thing of kissing 30 and 40 college girls in a minute or so is on the decline. And property too. We always have held it would be better to kiss one girl for 30 minutes than 30 in one minute anyway.

Times have changed. Liquor men now have to prove that Scotch comes from Scotland. There are some who can remember when it used to come from the bootlegger's cellar.

There are people who will raise a howl about the raise of a one mill tax who never make any kick when the nickle glass of beer holds less.

In the good old school days, students knew the capitals of each nation in the world and of every state in the Union. Now they know the latest dances and the best place to park a car at night.

The average mother always expects her son to become a great man, while all she hopes for her daughter is that she marry well.

Among those who suffer for a principle and people who won't gossip. They must get dreadfully tired of talking about the weather.

In the old days people had a home as a place to stay.

The motorcycle is being used some in the wars in Europe. Just ramming those things through a city would scare most people to death.

STRONG, SILENT MEN

We have just heard of the sad case of a chap who was left at the altar by his bride-to-be and they say his case is pitiful. He has not spoken a word since—just struck dumb.

But there are other sad cases, too There are, it is said, many men who did not get left alone at the altar and lots of them haven't said much since, either.

The only time we listen to a man who has been a failure all his life is when he tells of his failures and then we try to avoid these things.

One of the youngsters who won't graduate for a few years was saying goodbye to the teacher for the vacation period.

"I'm going on a vacation now," said the youngster, "but I'll have to be back and stay until I'm 16."

"Don't let it worry you," said the teacher kindly. "I've got to stay here until I'm 65."

An analysis of the alien isms advocated in this country would probably show them composed of equal parts of envy, vindictiveness and propaganda.

Grandpap's philosophy: The mothers wear the Mother Hubbards, but the daughters prefer to be clad more like cupboards.

WELL DESCRIBED

After reading a book, on modern India, a youngster asked his father what an Untouchable is.

The guest towels your mother puts in the bathroom when she thinks we're going to have visitors" explained dad.

Good Taste

"Most clowns are bachelors. They haven't the glamour other guys have." Lou Jacob, leading clown of one of the world's chief circuses, said this the other day, while lamenting the fact that he had never married. He stated a fact that I have always found true in social life. The boy who clowns before girls is seldom popular with them. The screen actors they rave about are seldom, if ever, comedians. It was true in mother's day. Her matinee idols were actors playing serious, particularly heroic, roles. The boy who plays practical jokes and slapstick tricks at girls' houses, college proms and sorority dances gets many a laugh, but seldom a kiss. Girls save their kisses for the dignified boys who show their serious side more often than their comic side. Of course, a rich sense of humor must be always on tap. Anyone lacking that saving grace has less sex appeal even than a clown.. But there is a vast difference between low comedy and dignified humor. And a really witty person is most witty when he thinks least about it.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: Please tell me what kind of furniture I should choose for a cottage in the country?—H. M.

Answer: For a very small and unpretentious cottage, avoid elaborate furniture and maintain simplicity by collecting originals or reproductions of early American Colonial furniture. For your draperies, choose cretonne or chintz. For your floor coverings, either rag or hooked rugs.

Dear Miss Markel: If a person with whom I am talking mispronounces a word and I later find it necessary to use that word what should I do?—Ruth.

Answer: Avoid use of the word, if possible. Choose a synonym or change the construction. If its repetition is unavoidable, then, by all means pronounce it properly, of course.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

ENJOYING HIS DAY OF REST

When teaching a rural school in Illinois the teacher appeared late for breakfast the first Sunday and noted a reproving look on the farmer's face.

"I thought it was Sunday and you wouldn't get up so early," she remarked apologetically.

"Yes, it is Sunday, and my rest day," he replied, "and I like to get up early so I'll have a longer day to rest."

In West Virginia some birds charged with signing communist election petitions claimed they thought they were signing a petition for a third term for President Roosevelt. Omygosh!

Some Americans are in favor of war. In fact many have gone over there to get into one.

Farmer boys don't have to worry about playgrounds. When they get a day off they can easy find something to amuse themselves.

Bombing planes have not yet won any wars, but they have proved disastrous to women and children.

Hatred never made the hater or the hatred feel good.

FLAT TIRE

Professor: "I say your tubular air container has lost its rotundity."

Motorist: "What—?

Professor: "The cylindrical apparatus which supports your vehicle is no longer inflated."

Motorist: "But—"

Prof.: "The elastic fabric surrounding the circular frame whose successive revolutions bear you onward in space has not retained its pristine roundness."

Small Bob: "Hey, mister, you got a flat tire."

There isn't much argument left after a man himself admits he has been a fool.

President Roosevelt declares there shall be no war profits. He seemed to have been against all kinds of profits in the past also.

Say, man, how do you like your new straw hat?

We fell in with the chain store executive the other day and talk got around to business.

"Must be pretty interesting running a chain of stores" we ventured

"Yes," he replied with a twinkle in his eye. "We have to spend all our time on the links.

Attacks are now being made by air, sea and land. So far no one has invented anything with which to make an attack under ground.

A man feels easier in his mind if his wife does the cooking. Even if she is mad at him, nothing queer gets into the food.

"Did romance last longer in the old days?" queries some one on a post card, and then proceeds to answer with: "It's because woman didn't look so different after washing her face."

The older the man, the more prompt he is in arriving at his work in the morning.

A girl who had her boy friend taken away from her by a visiting young lady from another state, declares that such damsels should be charged $50 for an out-of-state hunting license.

Wanting but little here below is old-fashioned.

Most of us should be thankful that we don't get what is coming to us.

Language is funny. Spaniards named the gila monster, and we must pronounce it "heela" because they say "he" when they mean "g."

What's What At A Glance

Golden Hoard May Become Problem
Too Much Gold Stored In Country
Future Value Held Unpredictable

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—In the rather early days of the last World war an American cartoonist represented Uncle Sam as an inebriated customer at a bar behind which John Bull was presiding as drink dispenser. Uncle Samuel was in the act of shoving out more good money for a fresh libation. Bartender Bull, with a cynical grin, evidently was quite ready to continue serving him so long as his cash held out.

"I never b'fore felt so rich in m'life," our Uncle was quoted as saying in drunken accents.

Of course, one foresaw instantly that he'd feel altogether differently in the morning, with the effect of his potations wearing off and not a cent left in his pockets.

The purport of this pictorial parable was that Uncle Sam was dishing out vast quantities of really valuable American goods (money, according to the cartoon (to Bartender Bull in return for gold (licker, in the picture), which is of little intrinsic worth except to fill teeth with and in the manufacture of a little jewelry.

Too Much Gold?

Without discussing the very complicated details of our financial policy, it's beginning to be suggested today that, in the last few years, Uncle Sam has been filling himself up with more gold than is good for him, and that he'll regret it in the cold gray dawn of some tomorrow, before long.

Quite recently the commerce department announced that we have more than two-thirds of the world's supply of the stuff buried out in Kentucky. It was a moderate estimate. The fact, according to the treasury, is that the figure is nearer three-quarters than it is two-thirds.

Now, suppose we get practically all there is of it on earth? And then suppose that other countries say, "Oh, well, considering that we haven't got any of the darned metal left, let's quit recognizing it as money." At that juncture, what will our huge store of it be good for? There aren't teeth enough in the United States to use so enormous a quantity of the stuff.

This is no mere question of my own.

Senator John G. Townsend of Delaware has been asking it vociferously lately. True, Senator Townsend, as a Republican, may be trying to ask an embarrassing question of the New Deal administration.

But the other day Dr. E. A. Goldenweiser of the federal reserve system's research division referred to the "problem presented by the accumulation in our country, in exchange for our products and other forms of wealth, of an asset (meaning gold) which is of little value now and whose future value is unpredictable."

Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau also hinted recently that "gold may cease to be employed as a means of international payments."

Joe McCoy's Verdict

What's the answer to this: "If we ever do find out how to manufacture gold as plentifully as iron, won't it cease to be good for anything as money?"

I consulted the late Joseph S. McCoy, then treasury actuary, on the subject.

"Certainly," agreed Joe, "an oversupply of gold would spoil it as an exchange medium. If no substitute could be found we'd have to fall back on paper.

"In primitive times," he continued, "folks simply swapped commodities.

"Suppose a guy's business was catching coonskins. Probably he'd accumulate too many. Besides, he'd need some corn to eat. So he'd have to trade off his surplus coonskins for corn grown by one of his neighbors. It must have been unhandy, though. The coonskin man would have to find a farmer with some corn to spare, and he'd have to find one who wanted coonskins. And vice versa.

"To avoid all this shopping around, we can take it for granted that there was a class of brokers—chaps who arranged deals on commission.

"Finally, no doubt, the brokers quit actually handling corn and coonskins. They simply handed out their personal guarantees, good for corn, coonskins or any old thing. That was satisfactory enough so long as a broker didn't overdo himself, pledging himself to bigger dickers than he was good for. After a lot of them had gone bankrupt, I presume that developing government took over the brokerage function.

"But governments can overdo THEM-selves also. So there had to be an agreement on something stable, and gold was IT.

"If gold blows up, I presume we'll have to return to barter."

Shall Congress Adjourn?

WASHINGTON May 27. THE question of whether Congress should adjourn soon after it passes the President's defense appropriation or whether it should stay in session through the summer—or as long as the war crisis continues—is one upon which a good deal hinges. Concerning it there are two views, and there is pressure in both directions.

OBVIOUSLY, the President favors adjournment. He said as much in his defense message ten days ago. True, he spoke then of Congress and the Executive as a "team", but almost in the same breath declared that should further emergency arise he would call Congress back in session. If this was not an invitation to adjourn, it was nothing at all. In effect, he handed Congress its collective hat. The reasons it would be more convenient for him to have the legislative branch out of the way as soon as the money has been given are clear enough.

ONE is that there would then be no agency to check or control executive handling of the program and no forum in which voices could be raised in dissent. For another, there would be no danger of Congressional initiative in amending, repealing or relaxing the oppressive New Deal laws which handicap industry and which everybody knows will lessen the competency and greatly increase the costliness of this vital business of arming ourselves. Mr. Roosevelt already has registered disapproval of any relaxation of the so-called social legislation which he has put on the books, though how the job can be done well without relaxing them no one knows—including himself.

ANOTHER reason the Administration is anxious for early adjournment would mean the death of every one of the controversial measures to which the White House has been either openly or secretly opposed. Among these are the Walter-Logan bill, the amended Hatch

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

INSTALLMENT TRANSPORTATION

The railroad corporations are perking up. They are carrying passengers at fares nearly commensurate with the fares that obtained back in the day when the Lake Erie Railroad sold a monthly ticket to New Castle people good for sixty-two fares between New Castle and Pittsburgh for $14.90—about twenty five cents a trip. They have not gotten back to that as yet, but they are carrying passengers for two cents a mile and even less on long hauls. They are running streamline trains fast—a little too fast at times as the terrible accident of the New York Central train near Utica proved. They are running beautiful trains. An ordinary passenger now does not have to fight for a seat. He is sold a numbered seat in a very finely furnished day coach without any extra fare and if the railroad company needs an extra car for the train because of the demand for seats, they add a car to the train.

The Daylight Express on the Southern Pacific between Los Angeles and San Francisco is proof of that last statement. There was such a great demand for accommodations between Los Angeles and San Francisco, they had to run a second section on this train.

Upon this train is a loud speaker in every coach, and this loud speaker calls to the attention of the passengers any interesting bit of scenery or object on the trip. Windows of the coaches are so arranged and so large that it does not make any difference where the passenger's seat is; he commands a view of the things to which his attention had been called. Upon this train is a dining car, a coffee shop and a Club car. The passengers on this train do not need to worry about what sort of seat they're going to have. They know exactly—the same as though they had purchased a Pullman Parlor car seat. It is a streamline train and it travels fast.

Now the railroads, in order to get more business, are going to sell transportaion on the installment plan. If your credit is good—and the company's agent will determine that in twenty-four hours after an application for credit is made—the company will sell you a regular transportation ticket and a Pullman ticket on the monthly payment plan. The present plan proposed by the railroads calls for an expenditure of fifty dollars. Any transportation requiring a less amount is still a cash affair. A New Castle citizen who wishes to visit the San Francisco Exposition this summer and his credit is good, can buy his transportation with a regular Pullman, for so much a month.

Nearly 900,000 Persons Disappear In Year

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 27—If the entire population of Cleveland, sixth largest city in the United States, vanished today, it would occasion some slight surprise. "Where did everybody go?" would be a natural question.

Yet enough persons have disappeared in the United States in the past twelve months almost to populate another Cleveland or overpopulate another St. Louis, seventh largest city and except for a few spectacular cases (Clark Gable was "lost" for a couple of hours) the community of the missing has grown without public attention.

According to Daniel M. Eisenberg whose vocation and avocation are finding missing persons and collecting statistics about them, 869,432 persons have disappeared from their usual places of residence in twelve months time.

Eisenberg breaks down his figures into three groups. In the largest group; stockholders, witnesses, insurance policy holders, bank depositors, etc., there were 385,465 disappearances. The "dead beat" group which includes everybody who outran the finance man or the rent collector totals 276,189. The third group includes the elopers, runaway boys and girls, hen-pecked husbands and brow-beaten wives and totals 179,054.

Although the total of 869,432 is impressive it is 151,189 below the total for the previous 12 months. Eisenberg's explanation for that is that the economic condition of the country has improved to some extent and in addition, travel to Europe is more difficult.

In 16 years of tracing and classifying missing persons, Eisenberg has learned that twice as many men as women disappear. He also has learned that twice as many women as men call the cops when their mates walk out.

Women find the going harder and usually want the bread winner back, he says. Men just don't seem to care.

Balloon Barrage Stops Bomb Raids

England Sends Two Herds Of "Weary Elephants" To France

By NEWELL ROGERS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 27—Two herds of Britain's "weary elephants" were on duty in France today.

The weary elephants were two squadrons of the Royal Air Force's balloon barrage corps. Their balloons are so named because when inflated they look more like very, very tired elephants than anything else.

The two squadrons with full equipment—trucks, trailers, balloons and hydrogen supplies, have sent their balloons up in the air to guard two ports of disembarkation for the B. E. F.

Most ridiculed idea of defensive warfare before war actually broke out, the balloon barrage is generally regarded here today as one of the most effective deterrents to dive bombing yet invented.

The barrage, it was pointed out, is particularly suited for protecting docks, harbor works, troop concentrations which must be carried out at low altitudes to insure accuracy.

Balloon barrage men asserted that one reason why the Germans have given up trying to destroy the Firth of Forth bridge in Scotland is because a balloon barrage now guards the bridge. This makes accurate dive bombing on the great span near Edinburgh, suicidal, they claimed.

BRITISH R. A. F. HAS 500,000 HOMING PIGEONS

(International News Service)

LONDON.—Half a million homing pigeons are enlisted today in Britain's Royal Air Force and two thousand are already on active duty.

Officers commended the "courage, tenacity, devotion to duty" of these flying comrades.

One bird was released off the Scandinavian coast at 13,000 feet altitude above a blizzard.

The pigeon dropped to 1,500 feet and headed for home. Three days later it turned up at its base. The bird had weathered a north-westerly gale and the blizzard.

The Great Game Of Politics

Act and the amendments to the wage-and-hour law and to the Wagner Act. Of course, adjournment in June also fits into the desire of many members of Congress up for re-election and anxious not to have to vote on these prickly proposals. There is also the wish to avoid facing the financial realities of the defense program—to wit, taxes.

ON the other hand, real pressure for Congress to stay on the job is coming from independent and Democratic as well as Republican quarters. It is being voiced by many newspapers and detached observers. First, the point is made that Congress has not finished its work and there is no excuse for adjournment without action on the above-cited bills for which there is both popular demand and public need. Second, it is contended that it is craven of Congress to refuse to face the fiscal facts. Ultimate cost of defense will be many more billions than are now asked. Financial preparation is as vital as physical preparation, You cannot just appropriate vast sums on top of such a debt as we now have without some provision for raising the money—that is, it can't be done without subjecting the nation to a peril almost as devastating as war itself.

EVEN though Mr. Roosevelt blithely says that taxes can be considered later, tax legislation is utterly indispensable and it is criminally foolish to ignore the facts and mislead the people in this respect. Tax legislation is a primary duty of Congress. A new tax bill, revised and increased, is an essential. The time to start work on it is now—not next year. If it is not done now, by next year we may be so deep in the financial mire that our whole defense effort will be crippled.

FINALLY, there is the point that Congress ought to be in session to watch and check the executive handling of the job. If, as suggested, Mr. Roosevelt is going to insist upon personally managing this program with Mr. Harry Hopkins, now living in the White House, and Mr. Henry Morgenthau as his chief aides, with a few industrialists like Mr. Knudson working under them, but without full power—if that is the plan, then the prospect is, indeed, appalling. If that sort of set-up is really contemplated, then hope for an efficient, non-political job is "out of the window". The mere mention of Mr. Hopkins makes one think of waste and politics. Nor is Mr. Roosevelt's own record one to divert thought from either.

CERTAINLY, there is a very simple way of obliterating the political suspicion. It has been pointed out by friends as well as foes. All he has to do is make it clear that he is not a candidate—and will not be a candidate. The response to that action would be overwhelming. It would raise him to a height of popular esteem such as no one in a hundred years has occupied. It would be enormously in the national interests and a very big thing to do. But, there is slight chance that he will do it. Instead, he is reported as highly delighted with the silly suggestions that we abandon our political system, do away with the campaign and by agreement of both parties elect him unanimously—on the theory that he is the Indispensable Man. Considering the conditions, the situation is little short of tragic.

Anglo-Italian Tension Eased To Some Degree

Agreement Reached On Liners Passing Through Contraband Points

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 27.—Easing tension somewhat between the two countries, Italy has agreed to employ the Navicert system on all of its liners passing through British contraband control points, it was learned authoritatively today.

An Anglo-Italian agreement covering the shipping situation will be signed soon, it was said.

Under the agreement Italy would submit to British authorities a statement of the cargoes carried in the Italian vessels, while Britain would not insist on searching the ships as has heretofore been done.

Meanwhile, the British ministry of economic warfare reported, in a published statement, favorable negotiations between Great Britain and Italy over contraband control methods.

Far-Reaching Decision Given

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—In a far-reaching decision the supreme court today, by a 6 to 3 decision, ruled that manufacturers cannot collect damages from labor unions under the Sherman anti-trust law for stoppage of interstate commerce by a "sit down" strike.

Justice Harlan Stone delivered the court's majority opinion Chief Justice Hughes read a sharp dissenting opinion, in which he was joined by Justices McReynolds and Roberts.

GERMANY CLAIMS ATTACKS MADE ON PARIS AIRDROMES

stating that the situation east of the battlefront "has not changed since last week."

German Communique

The communique said:

"Our troops continued their attacks in Flanders and Artois, further tightening the ring around the enemy armies. We succeeded in driving a deep wedge into the enemy front north of Menin as far as a point near Ypres.

"As on previous days, strong units of our air force intervened in the fighting in the west, facilitating the advance of our army. The most successful air attacks centered over the area where the enemy armies are surrounded.

"Northeast of Lens, Germans repulsed counter-attacks by French colonial troops, with heavy losses to the latter.

"As already reported, Calais, which had previously been encircled, fell into our hands after a stubborn battle.

"Near Boulogne, First Lieutenant Von Jaworski of a tank regiment, under fire of several enemy warships, bombarded and set afire an enemy destroyer.

Attack Channel Ports

"Our air force again attacked French and Belgian channel ports still in possession of the enemy, thereby frustrating British attempts to evacuate part of their surrounded troops across the channel to England.

"Piers and docks at Dunkerque were set afire.

"There were no particular events on the southern front.

"During the last few days south of Sedan, Lieutenant Mueller of an anti-tank infantry company destroyed five of eleven heavy enemy tanks and damaged the remainder so badly that their attack broke down.

"Aerial attacks also were carried out against airports in the neighborhood of Paris. Communications south of Rheims and enemy troop movements were attacked. Twenty enemy planes were put out of action at one airport alone.

"Yesterday enemy losses totalled 73 planes, including 32 shot down in air battles, 15 by anti-aircraft guns and the remainder on the ground. Fifteen German planes are missing.

"In the Narvik area, German mountain chasseurs again landed by parachute.

"As already reported, an enemy aircraft carrier which had been heavily hit by bombs in Ofot Fjord on May 24 was again hit by three bombs on May 25 off Harstad and sunk.

"One merchant ship of 8,000 tons was bombed and sunk, and one big warship, two cruisers and one transport of 18,000 tons were hit and set afire by heavy bombs.

"Several airplanes were destroyed on the ground at Barduvos airport.

"The enemy continued its planless air attacks on non-military objectives in western Germany without great damage."

BRITISH BELIEVE ALLIES FACING CRITICAL WEEK

command was accompanied by a government decision—as a precaution against invasion—to evacuate all children from 15 coastal towns such as Harwich, Dover and Folkestone on the east coast.

The high command shift made Ironside commander-in-chief of home defenses while Gen. Sir John Greer Dill took Ironside's place as chief of staff. General Lord Gort remains as chief of the B. E. F. an official announcement stated:

"Changes resulting from the military situation have made it necessary to place the defense of Britain in the strongest possible hands."

Deny Calais Taken

Germain claims that Calais has been captured by Nazi forces were denied and the government stated British planes contained to smash German bases on the continent. A war office communique stated:

"There was no serious attack Sunday on the British front (in Belgium.) The enemy launched a strong attack against Belgian forces on our left and British troops have gone to their assistance. The events of the last few days have not impaired the resources and courage of the British soldier."

The ministry of information stated:

"Messages emanating from Germany still assert Calais is in German hands. These statements are without foundation.

"Calais remains in possession of the allies."

As Ironside took command of the home front, General Sir Walter Kirke, who has been in command of the territorial army, stepped back into retirement. The changes in the British high command, however, did not parallel the "purge" of French generals last week. Authorities announced all officers involved in the shift enjoy the confidence of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's cabinet.

But authoritative sources indicated Ironside's appointment as head of home defense foreshadows a general revamping of the home front.

DEADLY NEW FRENCH FIGHTER PLANE IN ATTACK ON NAZIS

most invariably against staggering odds. They have been the object of bombing raids during hours of rest.

I arrived just in time for one of these raids at the first fighter's field I visited. It was at high noon when I first heard faintly that unmitakable "woom....woom....woom" of a German bi-motored bomber. The drone of the lone plane rapidly swelled into the roar of an approaching but invisible air fleet.

But within two or three minutes we managed to glimpse the first of them in the hot, hazy sky.

They were painted silver like those Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr. American envoy to Poland, told me bombed his place in Poland. (Thirty one words censored here.)

There were three first, then five and finally we counted 15. They passed from view in a twinkling but we heard what we estimated to be 15 to 20 others pass over. (Four words censored here.)

The roar overhead assumed new notes as unseen French fighters approached from several directions. occasionally we could glimpse these flying darts seeding on lines converging with the enemy.

The boom of pompom guns and the rip of machine guns joined the chorus. Then, about 20 miles away, we heard the first explosions of bombs which became almost continuous.

Happened In Few Minutes

It takes a long while to tell, but actually it happened in a matter of minutes. I don't know how the fight came out, but I was told the allies shot down about 100 planes today. And I imagine part of those we saw contributed to the total score.

After the raid I talked to the pilots who had been fighting an hour before our arrival. One of them was a dead ringer for Jack Dempsey, the ex-champion, in his younger days. This airman was credited with just having brought down his third Dornier.

Here is what the pilot said:

"I picked him (the German plane) up east of here. Like most of them, who have instructions not to fight if they can avoid it—they do this to conserve machines—Fritz tried to get away when he saw me.

"I got on his tail and was ready to fire when he got into a cloud. I piled in after him. I saw a German Messerschmidt hustling up behind as I went into the cloud, so I knew I would have to gamble quickly.

"Although I was wrapped in the cloud and unable to see, I opened up my guns on the line I thought Fritz was taking. When I burst from the cloud I saw him falling in flames I followed him until he landed and then returned."

Calmly Tells Story

The French airman related his story with almost mechanical calmness. It has become routine work for these boys (six words censored here) whose rumpled, dusty uniforms tells the story of the work (one word censored here) they have been going.

After one terrific battle in the air last week, it was related "Dempsey" came back to his base with 371 machine gun bullets and two cannon shots through his plane.

But their morale is tough. I have never seen such grim determination and cold anger among any group of men.

And a high air force general told me:

"You knew them in the comparitively easy days before May 10 Since then they have performed super-human efforts.

"I should like to find a new word to express my feeling of admiration, respect and affection for them. The force I command has won 600 victories in 14 days of fighting."

Father Taracko Has First Mass

Testimonial Dinner Tendered Him By Parishoners Of St. Michael's At 1 O'Clock

FATHER TARACKO

The Rev. Fr. Paul Taracko O. S. B. a local priest celebrated his first solemn high mass Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in St. Michael's church. Rev. Fr. Michael Jasko, O. S. B. was deacon and Rev. Fr. Theodore Kojis, O. S. B. was sub-deason. Fr. Louis Hudak of St. Andrews Abbey, Cleveland, O., was the master of ceremonies and Rev. Fr. Louis Mihok, the arch priest.

Others who assisted in the services were young men of the Holy Name Society and Filomena Klamar Kantes. Impressive services of the Mass blessing was given to all guests and parishoners by Father Taracko at the close of mass.

Testimonial Dinner

At 1 o'clock a delicious testimonial dinner was held by the parishoners of St. Michael's church in honor of Father Taracko. The dinner was served at the Slovak Hall South Jefferson and Chartes street and the role of toastmaster was capably taken in charge by Rev. Fr. Theodore Kojis. The following guest speakers were introduced: the Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski pastor of SS. Philip and James church, who congratulated Father Taracko on reaching his high goal and of celebrating his first mass. Other speakers were: John Yatsko, Michael Mizak, Adolph Greene, Mrs. Klamar Kantes, Mrs. Novatny of Youngstown, O., Mrs. Gress, of Homestead, Pa., Rev. Fr. Louis Mihok, Father Louis Hudak, Rev. Fr. John Kraynik, of Lakewood, O., and members of the immediate family of Father Taracko's.

Associates of the Blessed Virgin Mary Sodality of St. Michael's church presented bouquets of flowers and gifts to the honored priest. The presentation was made by Veronka Sojcak and Marian Palkovich

Out-of-town guests who were present were Mr. Podobrick, of Akron, O., Mr. Audrey and the Drabis and Jasko families, of Akron, O.

At the completion of the meal, Father Taracko addressed the group expressing his profound gratitude for the occasion tendered him. Parishoners of St. Michael's church were thanked for the beautiful chalice that was presented to him and Father Taracko expressed his hope to serve his God and his people.

Much credit for the success of the event is due to the Sodality members and their aides.

St. Vitus Church Crowns May Queen

Mission Services Come To A Close; Corpus Christi Procession Held Sunday Afternoon

Beautiful and impressive services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the members of Our Lady's Sodality of St. Vitus church, when they placed the crown upon the head of the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

While the Sodality choir was singing appropriate hymns, the May crowning was held, with Charlotte Biondi as May Queen. Her immediate attendants were Eva Malley, Jennie DeCarbo and Rose Cugini. Ann Richards was the crown bearer and Joan DeCarbo and Dolly Alfano, train bearers. Approximately 100 Sodality members, altar boys and children of the parish took part in the stately services. Mrs. Frances Coloa was the organist.

The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita distributed the Sodality medals to all the new members, followed by the presentation of flowers to the Virgin mother.

Mission services held for the past two weeks, came to a close with Rev. Fr. Emilio Greco, the missionary from New York City conducting the papal blessing and candle service in which, the baptismal vows were renewed. An inspiring sermon was also given by Father Greco.

The Corpus Christi procession was held, and during this time, the Blessed Sacrament was exposed. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita was the celebrant, Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Abbate, the deacon and Rev. Fr. Emilio Greco, the sub-deacon.

At 11 o'clock, Sunday morning, special memorial services were conducted by Father Greco, with a solemn high mass in memory of the soldiers fallen on the battlefields. Many societies of this city participated in the services. Father Greco concluded the services with an interesting message, about these departed heroes.

The Corpus Christi procession in the preceding years was held outdoors, however on Sunday it was an indoor event, and members of the Sodality were all attired in blue and white, with the parish children also all wearing white.

Patriotic Program At Church Sunday

Italian Methodists Presented With American And Christian Flags At Service

At a fitting patriotic program Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Italian Methodist church, an American flag and a Christian flag were presented to the church, the former by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the latter by the Hon. Fred L. Rentz.

Rev. Francesco P. Sulmonetti, pastor of the church, presided, and several other New Castle ministers took part in the program.

After the prelude by the senior high school band, under the direction of Prof. Joseph Replogle, a song by the congregation, prayer by Rev. W. V. McLean, First Methodist church pastor, and a song by the Welker sisters, the American flag was presented by Mrs. W. R. Campbell, for the Daughters of the American Revolution. This was followed by the response by Mary Coco, for the congregation, and the salute to the American flag.

Attorney Frank Moretti, a member of the Italian Methodist church, recently appointed city solicitor, spoke in behalf of Mayor Charles B. Mayne, who was unable to be present.

Following another band number, "The Star Spangled Banner," Mr. Rentz presented the Christian flag. Aurora Nocera responded and the salute to the Christian flag was given.

The principal address of the afternoon was delivered by Judge W. Walter Braham, after the band had played "Onward Christian Soldiers." Following an anthem, "The Christian Army," by the choir, accompanied by Mrs. Sulmonetti, greetings were heard from the district superintendent of Grove City district of the Methodist church, Dr. W. E. Barlett, Rev. J. A. Cousin, pastor of Croton Methodist church, and Rev. T. B. Shearer, pastor of Central Christian church. Rev. Shearer spoke in behalf of the Ministerial Association.

The program closed with a song by the congregation, prayer and benediction by Rev. W. A. Thornton, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, and the postlude by the high school band.

NEW AUTOMOBILE COSTS ABOUT 25 CENTS PER POUND

(International News Service)

CHICAGO.—Your new automobile costs about 25 cents per pound, according to estimates submitted today by the Chicago Motor Club.

The list of ingredients in your new car includes: One and a third tons of steel; 33 pounds of copper and brass; two pounds of tin, 27 pounds of lead; 144 pounds of cast pig iron; 110 pounds of rubber; one-tenth bail of cotton; 13 square yards of fabric; 37 pounds of paper and fiber board; 18 square feet of glass, and more than two gallons of spraying lacquer.

Mix well together and add sufficient gasoline and lubricating oil and your car is ready for the highway.

SALADS HAVE GONE DOWN IN PRICE IN THE LAST 20 YEARS

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O.—Americans who like their salads pay less for the ingredients than they did 20 years ago when vitamins were first discovered.

Rural economists at Ohio State university delved into the records to bring this fact to light. Production of the three favorite salad ingredients—tomatoes, lettuce, and snap beans—has multiplied and their prices decreased, they found.

In 1920, the production per capita in the United States was just over one pound of beans, five pounds of lettuce, and less than six pounds of tomatoes. In 1939 annual production had increased to nearly four pounds of snap beans, 13 pounds of lettuce, and nearly 10 pounds of tomatoes for every man, woman and child in this country.

HOW YOU CAN GET A
$100 LOAN
IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $6.97 A MONTH

No endorsers or guarantors needed — No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, private service.

Do you want to get a loan quickly and simply? At Household Finance you can borrow $20 to $300 without endorsers or guarantors, if you can make regular monthly payments. From the table below you may choose the payment plan which fits your own purse. You may repay a small amount each month. Or you may make larger payments in order to pay up sooner.

Choose your own payment plan

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will find, for instance, that monthly payments of $9.75 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month for eighteen months will also repay a $100 loan.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2¼% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

PENNA. B. E. HENDERSON, PRESIDENT

When you borrow at Household Finance, you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.58 each, or a total of only $106.32, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. (Payments shown in the table include all charges. You pay nothing more.)

One rate to everyone

Household charges only one rate—the same to everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

All you do to borrow

All you do to get a Household Finance loan is to acquaint us with your problem. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives—and you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get the money you need in a simple, private transaction.

Fair treatment

Household shows every consideration to the borrower faced with sickness or unemployment while paying on a loan. Last year Household foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 10,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

Find the loan you need in the first column of the table and read across. See how you can repay your loan with a small part of your pay check. Then phone or visit us. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

Heavy British Bombers Make New Attacks

Airdromes In Belgium And Holland Are Bombed By Allies

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 27.—Heavy Britsih bombers pressed forward with attacks on German communications throughout the night, the British air ministry announced today.

In addition, it was stated, royal air force bombers attacked airdromes occupied by German forces in Belgium and Holland. These operations were carried out without any British losses, it was claimed.

Earlier the air ministry claimed that 20 German bombers were lost in a dramatic four-hour combat over the French coast. The admiralty, however, announced the loss of the 1,100-ton destroyer Wessex in a German bombing attack off the French coast.

Meantime, the air communique said, the royal air force successfully carried out a new series of raids on enemy territory, slashing railway junctions, communications, and ammunition dumps which were set afire by bombs.

In addition to the 20 Nazi bombers shot down in the French coast fight, 20 more were seriously damaged, the air communique said, while only five British fighters were lost. The battle was fought over the French coast between Calais and Dunkirk.

"Our pilots report," the communique stated, "that the sky was full of aircraft."

Even as the admiralty announced the loss of the Wessex with a death toll of 15 and a casualty list of 15, authoritative circles flatly denied German claims that an aircraft carrier had been sunk by Nazi bombers off the coast of Norway.

FOUR WORKMEN ARE SENTENCED TO DEATH

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 27—Four workmen—two of them only 18 years of age—were sentenced to death today by a Paris military tribunal for acts of sabotage committed in a Paris airplane factory.

A fifth accomplice in the sabotage plot was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

Would Concentrate Relief Labor On Defense Measures

Airport, Highway And Other Work Of Kind Would Be Included

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27—A congressional drive to concentrate relief labor on vital defense projects got underway in the senate today under the leadership of Sen. Davis (R) Pa.

Proposing establishment of a series of WPA camps and a unit coordinating activities of the WPA, PWA and RFC, Davis suggested that relief roll workers be placed immediately at the task of adding to this country's airports and highways.

"Much of the relief money" declared Davis, "can be used to promote our national defense system. The war department will shortly know what definite work projects will be necessary to promote national defense. Projects would include airports, highways, flood control and training facilities of all kind."

The Pennsylvania Senator initiated his drive for concentration of relief work on defense projects as the senate appropriations relief subcommittee began consideration of the $1,111,000,000 relief bill already approved by the house.

News Briefs From City Hall

Angelo Livrana, Oak street, reported to city police Sunday morning his auto was parked on the public square and another car struck it and caused damage. The operator of the car proceeding west did not stop, Livrana informed police.

John Russo, 308 Friendship street, reported to city police Sunday that a bicycle stolen from his place, later was recovered. Keith Brooks, 409 East Garfield avenue, reported his Elgin bicycle was stolen Saturday from George Washington junior high school vicinity.

City police vacations will begin June 3 and end November 18.

Garden at 409 Lyndal street was destroyed last night by vandals, the city police were informed. Annually flower-beds and garden plots are damaged and it is likely that whenever anyone is captured severe punishment will be meted to the offenders.

Mrs. Hannah Johns, 1327 Moravia street, required a doctor's attention Sunday, having been reportedly attacked by a dog owned by Mildred Johnson, rear 1227 South Mill street. Police were informed the dog bit one of Mrs. Johns' legs when she was enroute to visit Mrs. Johnson.

License plates of an auto stolen from C. R. Palmer, 7 East Wallace avenue, April 21, were found in a river at Youngstown, according to a state motor police teletype received here. The Plymouth sedan has not been recovered.

Great Sale of MEDICINES Amazes Local Druggist

Information of Vital Importance to Stomach Gas and Bloat, Rheumatic, Neuralgic, Constipation, Nervous Sufferers. . . .

Following the introduction of the two well-received medicines, RUX Compound and Williams Formula, druggists have expressed amazement of the good reports they have received from their customers.

"RUX Compound, famous for its action on Rheumatic, Neuritic, and Neuralgic Pain Attacks, is receiving wide-spread comment at this time," declares Mr. Casey, manager of the Pay Less Drug Store.

A prominent man, Mr. Andrew Scherm Jr., has just written of his experience and wants others to know what he, personally, thinks of this fine medicine.

"I purchased RUX at our local drug store and am grateful for the relief it brings me from the Rheumatic Pains in my arms and legs. At times I cannot sleep because the pain is so strong, and RUX has certainly been a welcome blessing to me, because it relieves these attacks."—945 8th, La Salle.

What Should You Do?

If you feel TORTURED with Rheumatic Agony, Neuritic Pains, Neuralgic Pain attacks, STOP and consider how much RUX may mean to you and your happiness and your family and friends. Don't delay a day about asking your druggist for RUX Compound.

MR. ANDREW SHERM, JR.

Others Praise Williams Formula

Others are finding Williams Formula has many actions making it a good old "family" medicine, that acts on the symptoms and distresses of Stomach Gas and Constipation in more than one way.

Besides containing carminatives and mild laxatives to relieve stomach gas and ease out waste from lazy bowels, Williams Formula is further strengthened with Stomachics, Diuretics, and with Iron Salts, to help stimulate digestive juices, relieve acid-irritated kidneys that may have been brought about by the constipation, and further SUPPLIES iron to iron-poor blood.

It is surprising that these many good actions can be obtained in one medicine, but the special compounding has made this possible, and this Williams Formula is receiving wide praise as a result.

If you suffer from these distresses from STOMACH bloating and gas pressure, dizziness and nervousness from Constipation; Painful and irritated KIDNEYS, that loggy, worn-out feeling, by all means try WILLIAMS FORMULA, strengthened, with Iron, Mild Laxatives, Carminatives, Stomachics, and Diuretics.

How You Can Get Your Medicine

RUX and WILLIAMS FORMULA are on sale by leading druggists everywhere. For your convenience—RIGHT HERE IN New Castle, you can talk to the Pharmacist daily meeting crowds at the Pay Less Drug Store, where he will be glad to show you these formulas. There are three economical sizes, $1.00, $1.50, and $8.00.

Now that you have this opportunity to see and try these medicines FOR YOURSELF, arrange to call at the Pay Less Drug Store today.

Speed Limits Vary Throughout Nation

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Speed limits over the United States vary as much as 75 miles an hour, according to Todd Stoops, secretary-manager of the Hoosier Motor club.

"The District of Columbia has a speed limit on the open road of 25 m.p.h. and Massachusetts puts on a little more speed at 30 m.p.h.," Stoops said. Indiana and 13 other states place no speed limit on the open road other than reasonable and proper, which means a speed of 100 m.p.h., or as much more as the car will do on a dry road where there is no traffic.

"Even where speed limits are set on the open road, the speed varies by 35 m.p.h., which is too much for a nation in which thinking is supposed to be alike. Five states set the limit at 60 m.p.h., five at 55 m.p.h.; seven at 50 m.p.h.; 11 at 45 m.p.h.; three at 40 m.p.h.; one at 35 m.p.h.; one at 30 m.p.h.; and the District of Columbia at 25 m.p.h."

Variations In States

Stoops also pointed out that Connecticut, with a speed limit of 50 m.p.h., reduces that to 40 m.p.h. at night, while Nebraska with 60 m.p.h. cuts that down to 50 m.p.h. at night. Colorado has 60 m.p.h. on the plains and 40 m.p.h. in the mountains.

"Pennsylvania lawmakers are so convinced that 50 m.p.h. is the logical speed on the open road that anyone convicted of exceeding that speed limit has his driver's license suspended for a minimum of 90 days," Stoops declared. "This law is enforced as many foreign drivers have found to their sorrow"

For 12 years, the Indiana speed limit was 25 miles an hour, but now only reason and prudence are necessary, it was pointed out

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Bubonic and typhus are not the only plagues.

Plague is defined as a blow or stroke that smites.

How about accidents, especially industrial ones?

They strike and smite when man is at full energy and vigor.

They inflict tremendous losses on the national economy.

Occupational deaths dropped from 19,000 in 1937 to 17,000 in 1938

But that is a heavy toll for carelessness.

It is not always the careless worker who is killed.

He may be the contributing factor to another's death.

Workers should feel a responsibility towards others.

That would be responsibility in the true collective sense.

All workers should unite against the accident plague.

Test Drivers Here Tuesday

Between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., Tuesday, persons who hold learner's permit to drive an auto can receive a test when the State Motor police hold tests in Sampson street. No examinations will be given after 3 p. m., it was stated because the examiners must take up other duties at that hour.

Youngstown Shows Population Loss By 1940 Census

YOUNGSTOWN, May 27.—Youngstown's population, heretofore steadily on the increase, dropped 2,576 persons during the last decade while Mahoning county's population showed a gain of 3,895 persons, John F. Willis, Mahoning county census supervisor, announced Saturday.

Preliminary figures released by Willis show the city's present population as 167,426 compared with 170,002 in 1930. The county population is 240,127 compared with 236,232 in 1930.

The drop in city population is in line with the trend in several other communities in the county, figures disclose. Struthers is the only community in the county which shows a gain. It has an increase of 4.67 per cent on the basis of reports to date.

Figures for Campbell and Lowellville, released recently, showed a decrease of seven and 7.6 per cent respectively.

While all of the figures furnished to date are preliminary, Willis said the final count probably would show only slight variation.

President Speeds Plans For Expanding Defense

Tells Nation Of Armed Strength

Condemns Activities Of Certain Groups In Nation Seeking To Create Fear

REMAINS SILENT ON THIRD TERM

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27—The nation's capital hummed with activity today as President Roosevelt drove forward to make good his pledge of a swift and adequate national defense program that will provide immediate jobs for tens of thousands of unemployed.

As predicted, the president, in last night's radio address to the country, ignored the demands of his Republican opponents that he declare himself out of the picture as a third term candidate. Observers believed that it was more certain than ever that Mr. Roosevelt would say nothing on this score until after the Republican convention next month, and possibly not until the Democratic convention in July.

Politicians noted, however, that, in the internationally broadcast "fireside chat", the president answered critics who have been charging that the New Deal poured billions of dollars "down a rat hole" and has nothing to show for it.

Accuses Foreign Agents

They also noted his attack on "sectional or racial or political groups" which he charged were being egged on by clever foreign agents "to create confusion of counsel, public indecision, political paralysis and, eventually, a state of panic".

Meanwhile, leaders on Capitol Hill were being sounded out for their reaction to possible nomination of a line officer as secretary of the navy. The officer in question was Admiral William D. Leahy, former chief of naval operations and present governor of Puerto Rico. Leahy is believed certain to come back into the Washington picture, possibly in the cabinet post.

Announcement of the personnel of President Roosevelt's "national defense emergency coordinating group" was expected within the next few days. It was probable that the president was discussing make-up of this group with Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins today as they returned from an overnight cruise on the White House yacht Potomac.

Leaves On Cruise

The president left Washington last night immediately after his broadcast, with Hopkins, Brig. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, White House secretary and military aide, and Captain Daniel J. Callaghan, naval aide, for a cruise down the Potomac river. Return was set for early this afternoon, which automatically cancelled the customary Monday morning conference with Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead, Senate Majority Leader Barkley and House Majority Leader Rayburn.

Business men welcomed the president's reassurance that private industry would be called upon to turn out the needed planes, tanks, guns, ships, etc., and that the government stood ready to advance the necessary money for plant expansion.

The president's attack on Trojan horse and fifth column activities also was well received. Promising prompt and vigorous action against "spies, saboteurs and traitors", Mr. Roosevelt warned:

"Sound national policies come to be viewed with a new and unreasonable skepticism, not through the wholesome political debates of honest and free men, but through the clever schemes of foreign agents."

Condemns Group Activities

The president particularly condemned the activities of certain foreign and racial groups, saying:

"These dividing forces I do not hesitate to call undiluted poison. They must not be allowed to spread in the new world as they have in the old. Our moral and mental defenses must be raised as never before against those who would cast a smokescreen across our vision."

In the "fireside chat"—the president's 14th since he took office seven years ago—Mr. Roosevelt told the nation that there is no cause for panic because, forewarned by Europe's wars, the United States is preparing to defend the western hemisphere against any aggression.

This country, said the executive, now has "the largest, the best equipped and the best trained peacetime military establishment in its history."

Declaring that he "will not hesitate to ask" for additional funds "when they are required", Mr. Roosevelt reproved persons and factions who have insisted that the United States has no concern with affairs abroad.

"They have lost the illusion that we are remote and isolated," he asserted. "...With this rude awakening has come fear bordering on panic.

"We are now more realistic. But let us not be calamity howlers and discount our strength. Let us have done with both fears and illusions ...and calmly consider what we have done and what we must do."

Youth Is Killed; Three More Hurt In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 27—One Philadelphia youth was killed and three others were injured critically today when their speeding automobile bearing six joy-riders collided with a trolley car in South Philadelphia.

Alfred DiPietro, 23, died, police said, when he was trapped inside the demolished car with Frank Crusco, 24, Daniel Impianno, 25, and Charles Gallagher, 23. The latter three were in a dying condition at Mt. Sinai hospital. Two other youths escaped with bruises.

Speeding on a mist-covered street, the automobile derailed the trolley and then careened into a house 20 feet away with an impact heard for three blocks. Three passengers in the trolley were reported uninjured.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 27. — The trial of five Dauphin county Democrats charged with macing state employes today was "continued generally" by specially presiding Judge Howard W. Hughes, of Washington county.

District Attorney Carl B. Shelley, when asked if the commonwealth intended to press charges against the five men, said he "didn't know."

The ruling, however, was believed the first move to withdraw the charges against the Democratic county committee members as they were acquitted in April on similar courts.

The last of the so-called "graft" trials was scheduled to start in April but was postponed until May 13 and later until May 27.

The Rev Fr. John O. Griffith, spiritual director of the Young Ladies sodality of St. Joseph's church, announces that the Sodality will meet Tuesday evening, May 28, at 8 o'clock, instead of Friday, May 31, as previously planned.

Plans will be discussed and completed for a social event to take place on June 12. A formal dance and picnic event will also be discussed as social events of the summer months.

Tuesday evening the discussion will feature the "Dialogue Mass," with members of Our Lady's committee in charge. The social committee will be in charge of the quiz program.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE QUINS HEALTH TODAY

I'm a great believer in the adage, "An ounce of prevention beats a pound of cure," and I think all physicians are. They'd rather keep you well.

To keep you well, that is, to prevent sickness it is necessary for you and your children to have regular medical checkups. There is no time of life when this is more important than in childhood.

The preventive measures we have been able to take at the Nursery are one big reason why the Dionne Quintuplets are entering their seventh year, tomorrow, "in the pink" to use a popular vernacular description of physical condition.

This has been confirmed by a series of examinations made in the last few weeks by the dean of the largest dental college in Canada; one of the foremost pediatricians in the Dominion, and one of our outstanding eye specialists.

It used to be that we called these men to the Nursery fairly often to get the benefit of their opinions and observations. But the need for having these examinations of the Quins frequently has disappeared and now they are more of a routine annual checkup. I like for the check up to take place about this time of year, before the tourists begin to come north in large numbers. If before the rush begins we find any reason why the children shouldn't be shown, we can warn tourists and save them from the disappointment of coming up here and not seeing the Quintuplets.

First of these specialists to visit the Nursery and examine the children was Dr. Alan Brown, professor of pediatrics—of paedriatics as the collegians spell it, at the University of Toronto. Dr. Brown is also chief of staff at the Toronto hospital for Sick Children. He is the man we have called in every time there has been a crisis in the lives of the Quins. Next to myself, no other medical men has seen them so often. His judgment we rely on implicitly.

I had him examine Marie first for we have always looked on her as the "weak sister." I felt that if he passed her without criticism, we didn't need to worry much about the rest. I was right.

His observations were certainly terse, but they were music to my ears: "Weight, fifty two pounds: general condition good, slightly overweight; heart normal; teeth good, two lower incisors coming in. Throat normal. Glands normal. Lungs clear. Feet Normal. Abdomen, negative."

Dr Brown gave naturally the same report on each of the five. The only notable difference was that all of them haven't two inciscors growing in Yvonne, who lost her teeth last, has only one tooth growing through. The other we expect in a few days.

That last statement: "Abdomen, negative, "simply means that when he palpated the abdomen, it was with negative results. In other words there were no indications of any abdominal disorder.

Space does not permit including in today's column the interesting reports of the other two specialists on the condition of the children's eyes and teeth. They will appear tomorrow.

Further Arrests Coming In London

Raid On British Fascist Leader Will Involve Many More Well Known Figures

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 27.—Many well known figures have been implicated by documents found in the police raid on the home of Sir Oswald Mosley, British fascist leader, who was arrested last week in the drive against suspected "fifth column" elements, authorities indicated today.

The documents found in the raid on Mosley's residence and other alleged "fifth column" centers were expected to result in further sensational arrests during the week.

Meanwhile it was revealed that Ted Bramley, London communist leader, was among those taken into custody. Twenty more members of the British union of fascists also were under arrest.

Continuing their drive against "fifth column" suspects, police searched four or five hundred ships, warehouses and docks along the Thames for possible hidden arms and uniforms but reported no important discoveries.

Supreme Court Divides 5-4 Today On Decisions

First Time All Fiive Roosevelt Appointees Line Up Together

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—For the first time since the march of the new deal appointments began, the five supreme court justices named by President Roosevelt made their full strength felt today when they joined to form a unified majority in two 5-4 decisions.

In each case Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McReynolds, Stone and Roberts—all appointed before Mr. Roosevelt came into office—dissented.

Those forming the majority were Justices Reed, Black, Frankfurter, Douglas and Murphy—all new deal appointees.

In one case in which Justice Stanley Reed delivered the opinion, the high court ruled that the wage and hour administration has jurisdiction over wages and hours of employes of motor truck and bus companies, whose activities do not effect safety of operation.

Justice Frank Murphy, newest new deal member, delivered the decision in a 5 to 4 split on a question of whether congress denied any privates and non-commissioned officers reenlistment allowances.

The government appealed in both instances and won its contentions.

The wage and hour issue arose in a dispute with the American Trucking Associations Inc. and five motor vehicle carriers. They brought suit to compel the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix maximum hours for all their employes.

The I C C refused, contending that its jurisdiction was limited to employes in cases where safety of operation was involved.

The government appealed the reenlistment pay case from the court of claims which ruled, in the case of Emmett F. Dickerson, that while congress may have intended to suspend the reenlistment allowance in 1938, it had failed to do so.

The new deal majority, relying heavily upon congressional debate, ruled that congress had suspended the allowance which, in Dickerson's case, was $75.

Governor James Is In Favor Of Defense Program

Thinks That Government Should Pay Attention To Airport Building

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 27.—Gov. Arthur H. James today declared he was in accord with President Roosevelt's gigantic national defense program and expressed a willingness to co-operate "in every way."

He pointed out, however, that construction of additional planes for air defense would find the commonwealth lacking in adequate landing fields. State funds for airport construction are not available, he added, but insisted that such improvement "was definitely a matter of national defense."

"While the government is spending money for 50,000 planes," the governor said, "it should spend some to develop places to land. Airport buildings and improvement should be as integral a part of the plan as building planes."

At the same time, Governor James predicted that Pennsylvania will lead the way as the nation strives to increase national defense.

"We've been the keystone state literally and figuratively for the last 175 years, and she's never been found wanting," he stated.

"She'll be the keystone in this crisis, too," he added, "because of natural resources."

Frame Asks Schmidt For Neal St. Report

Paving Of East And West Route Now Up To State

When councilmen convened today in the municipal building they were advised by T. C. Frame, chief engineer, department of highways, Harrisburg, he had received council's request for early paving from South Jefferson street via Croton avenue extension, Neal street, Taylor street, and Butler avenue extension to East Washington street. Neal street was improved as the state desired recently.

Frame said he had requested State Highway Department Engineer E. L. Schmidt, Pittsburgh, to forward him a report of the Neal street improvement.

When this lane, coursing east and west is paved and opened by the state it will divert considerable traffic from Washington street.

State Champion Truck Driver Is Greeted Here

Chester T. Loper, of Erie, Pennsylvania's state champion truck driver came to town today, driving the safety truck of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association. For the past three weeks he has been touring the state under the auspices of the Accident Prevention Division of the P. M. T. A. and will end his tour at Conneaut Lake on June 13, when the state convention of the organization opens.

At Montgomery Avenue, Mr. Loper was met by Paul A. Keely, president of the Lawrence County Chapter of the PMTA. Past State President, Harry L. Gormley and a group of officers and members of the local chapter.

At City Hall

From Montgomery Avenue the group drove through the city to city hall where Mayor Charles B. Mayne welcomed Mr. Loper and William Richardson, field representative of the state organization who is accompanying Loper.

Norman E. Clark, president of the Greater New Castle Association spoke briefly and Mr. Loper was interviewed by Paul A. Keely.

At noon today the officers and some of the members of the Lawrence County chapter entertained Mr. Loper and Mr. Richardson, at lunch in the Castleton Hotel. At one thirty the two gentlemen left for Sharon.

The purpose of the safety truck in touring the state is to educate the public to the idea that the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association is lending every effort towards the prevention of accidents. As the result of the campaign over the years accidents have been cut 29 per cent.

Loper's crown as state champion will be contested at Conneaut Lake and the winner this year will be sent to Los Angeles, Cal., where he will compete for the national title.

Taggart field will probably be thronged a week from tonight as the fair students, most of them in colorful costumes designed just for the drills, put on their pageant of splendor.

Leaders of the festival are the health education supervisors of Senior high and George Washingtond and Ben Franklin junior high schools.

The outdoor exhibition, they stressed, will be the first combined pageant of the girls of Senior high and the two junior highs in many years.

New Legislation For Defense Aid Is In Prospect

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Legislative authority for establishment of national defense corporations to buy and hold raw materials, and to make rearmament loans to business will probably be sought soon, Chairman Steagall (D) Ala., of the house banking committee disclosed today.

The proposal has been under the scrutiny of Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones for the past week. Seagall indicated he would introduce the legislation if it was found to be necessary to speed the defense program.

Meanwhile, representatives of the aviation machine tool industry met with Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau and high army and navy officials to arrange for a joint survey to ensure an adequate supply of tools and machinery for the thousands of airplanes sought in the rearmament program.

German Reaction To Radio Speech Of Roosevelt

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 27.—Official German reaction to President Roosevelt's speech to the American people last night was that if the chief executive of the United States feels the country is threatened, it is not by Germany.

Authentic spokesmen for the Reich government declared it felt that President Roosevelt's speech was primarily domestic, adding:

"If he feels his country is threatened, it must be someone else other than Germany is responsible.

"It is America's privilege to arm herself for defense.

"Only a small clique of warmongers is trying to plunge the country into war."

The spokeman's statement ended: "We say America for America, Europe for Europe."

Refuses To Accept Verdict Of Jury In Trial At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 27.—Federal Judge Nelson McVicar today refused to accept a jury verdict in a case involving three men charged with transporting two girls in interstate commerce for immoral purposes.

The jury, in its return, declared all three men were guilty of transporting the women across the state line, but found that two of them had formed "no intent" in Pennsylvania, and recommended "extreme mercy" for the third. The girls allegedly were taken from Meyersdale, Pa., to Meadow Mountain, Md.

The defendants were Fred Ohler, 27, 61 Rockwood, Pa.; Levi Goldinger, 32, of West Kittanning, Pa., and Glenn Joseph Clark, 24, of Grampian, Pa. Federal court attaches said it would be determined later whether the case would be re-submitted to another jury or dropped.

The verdict was reached after 15 hours deliberation.

OLD-STYLE REPORT CARDS ON WAY OUT IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA. — Philadelphia elementary school children next year may be bringing home report cards to their parents without the traditional "old-fashioned" grading of A, B, C, etc., if a plan now under trial proves satisfactory.

Pupils in 26 of the city's grade schools are the first to receive the new-type report card in an experiment now under way. The new cards are designed to show the pupil's achievement in relation to their ability rather than to a fixed standard for the entire class and are marked simply "satisfactory," or "unsatisfactory" for each subject.

Also on the cards are check lists with which teachers may appraise a pupil's social, work and health habits.

Nazi Pressure In Flanders Continues At Unabated Pace

Germans Cross Lys River, Drive For Calais Has Become Intensified

PARIS, May 27.—German troops have crossed the Lys river at several points and Nazi pressure against Allied troops in Flanders and Artois continues without abatement, an official French spokesman admitted this afternoon.

Despite the unceasing offensive of the past two weeks and more, the German attacks show no diminution of effectives, the spokesman declared.

At the same time he stated, without amplification, that the political situation as regards Italy has become "aggravated."

(Editor's note: In this connection, The Exchange Telegraph Company reported from Rome that the British embassy had advised all British nationals to leave the country. Reuter's agency, on the other hand, declared that Britons were being advised to leave only if their presence in Italy is non-essential.)

In a review of the general military situation at noon, the French spokesman lent particular emphasis to the fact that in spite of the daily and even thrice-daily attacks of the last fortnight the apparent strength of German effectives has not been reduced.

The German drive toward Calais has become intensified, the spokesman said, but details are lacking.

(Editor's note: Nazi authorities claim capture of Calais.)

"Incontestably, the situation is grave," the French spokesman declared.

UNIQUE 'BLOTTO' SERVICE IS BOON TO INEBRIATED

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—"Blotto service" for inebriated motorists is a good thing, according to St. Louis Director of Streets and Sewers Frank J. McDevitt, who recently commended a local taxicab company for distributing to every tavern in the city circulars advertising the service.

"Blotto service is available at any time, day or night, to anyone who, through drinking or sickness, does not feel capable of driving his own car," the circular states. "A cab with an extra driver will call and you ride the cab and the extra driver will follow with your car."

A patron wishing an extra driver must ask for "blotto service when calling a cab. The cost is double the meter rate, plus a 50-cent service charge. "Blotto service" first was put into effect in St. Louis by the two major cab companies about two years ago.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

FARMERS' FIELD DAY IS AT PENN STATE JUNE 13

The Pennsylvania State College of Agriculture will be host to the farmers of the state and their families on June 13, the annual Farmers' Field Day, at which the newest developments in the growing of crops and the handling of livestock will be discussed. A special feature on this year's program will be an address by L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange.

Tables will be provided for picnic parties in the grove, and arrangements are being made for a large number of visitors. Tours of the experiment station farms will start every 15 minutes all day to view agricultural projects under test conditions.

Exhibits of representative material will be presented by the departments of agricultural economics, agricultural education, agronomy, animal husbandry, botany, dairy husbandry, forestry, horticulture, poultry husbandry, and entomology. All of these departments and others will be open for inspection, and lectures and demonstrations will be presented along various lines.

Music will be supplied by the Pennsylvania Future Farmers' Band, and group singing will be led by R. W. Kerns, extension rural sociologist. The annual state-wide rural chorus contest will be held in Schwab auditorium in the evening. This contest is open to amateur rural singing groups.

Programs for the day's activities have been received, and a copy may be secured at the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

USE PASTURES TO GET MOST FEED FOR STOCK

Pastures have started slowly this spring because of the cool weather. This is especially noticeable where they were grazed too short and late last fall.

Some farmers turn their stock on pasture too early, often because of a shortage of barn feed. With good, improved pasture sods, however, many do not get the stock out in time to take full advantage of the lush spring growth.

As a result, large areas are ungrazed or poorly grazed and a great deal of the grass soon is so large, tough, and unpalatable that cows will not eat it and the white clover is smothered. In such cases, the wasted grass must be mowed as closely as possible with the hope of sufficient moisture for renewal growth.

Dividing the pasture into several areas, turning the stock on the most advanced area plenty early, and making the stock clean up each area in turn helps to prevent the condition mentioned. However, after a farmer improves his pasture he can turn his stock out about two weeks earlier than before improvement.

Plans should be made now for the short pasture period of July and August. An acre of sudan grass for each three cows, sowed about June 1, will furnish a lot of good grazing when most needed. The first cutting of alfalfa or other hay crops, which often are coarse and hard to cure, can be made into silage for use when needed.

Soybeans or a mixture of soybeans and sudan grass makes the best crop for cutting and feeding green in late summer.

RULES GIVEN TO KEEP BEES FROM SWARMING

Six rules to prevent swarming of bees are found helpful in apiary management. They are:

1. Never let the bees get the hive full of honey.
2. Remove queen cells every week or 10 days.
3. Remove the drone comb and substitute comb foundation.
4. Provide additional ventilating space.
5. If queen cells are started, remove four combs and replace them with sheets of foundation.
6. Provide shade for the colonies.

Under favorable conditions a strong colony will fill a super with honey in three or four days. Additional super space should be supplied when bees have stored nectar in all but the outer rows of section or in the outer frames of the extracting supers.

Queen cells should be destroyed. When the queen cells are sealed over, three or four frames of honey or brood can be removed and frames containing full sheets of foundation placed in the center of the brood chamber. This will give the bees work and break up the swarming fever. The removed frames can be given to a weak colony or used for making increase.

The presence of large number of drones encourages swarming. Removal of comb containing drone cells and replacement with full sheets of foundation properly wired will correct the drone situation.

Additional ventilation is needed during the swarming season. This can be provided by blocking up each corner of the hive about an inch from the bottom boards.

Light shade boards on the hives will protect them from the direct rays of the sun. Have the boards extend a few inches over the hive cover on all sides.

AT FIELD CLUB COURSE

The New Castle church golfers will go to the New Castle Field club Tuesday night for their matches instead of Thursday, it was announced. It was deemed not wise to try and stage any matches on a holiday, it being Decoration Day on Thursday. The golfers are asked to take notice of the change in playing date.

Sentence court on Saturday morning was something that drew more than ordinary interest around the court house. Not in years has the court smacked down so hard on offenders and the consensus of opinion was that the sentences were not at all too severe.

Most sentences had to do with automobile stealing and for the past few months Judge W. Walter Braham has been warning those brought before him that unless it eased off somebody was going to get set down hard.

The promises were made good Saturday morning. In addition to automobile thefts, the additional charge of attempted jail break was against the prisoners and the sentences should give some of the gentlemen of the county who have a habit of purloining automobiles some pause.

The new jury rooms on the second floor are almost ready for painting and furniture. The walls are plastered and about dry enough to paint. Some floor covering will follow, and the walls of the halls will be painted and floor covering put on them. When this is done the long job of doing over the court house will be about completed.

With the finish of the job the county commissioners will probably set aside a day for the public to visit the court house and see what has been done. For about $100,000 the taxpayers now have a court house that will be ample for years to come.

The agitation for a new court house has died away and a lot of money has been saved.

The architectural beauty of the Lawrence county court house is such that it is known over the state as a fine example of old style beauty. The front of the building attracts many visitors from other cities and had a new building been built an attractive old building would likely have been razed.

The court house will be closed all day on Thursday, May 30, Memorial Day.

One room of the remodelled court house which nearly escaped our attention is the vault room of the county controller. It is located in the basement and is under the new wing. Already it is nearly filled with files and records.

The county commissioners are considering a new office for Sheriff M. M. Ingham and if this is done Controller Frank W. Hill will probably be given the present sheriff's office. If this is done a stairway can be cut from the office to lead to the vault room down stairs.

GAS SO BAD CROWDS HEART

"My bowels were so sluggish and my stomach so bad I was just miserable. Sometimes gas bloated me until it seemed to crowd my heart. I tried Adlerika. Oh, what relief. The first dose worked like magic. Adlerika removed the gas and waste matter and my stomach felt so good."—Mrs. S. A. McAmis. If gas in your stomach and bowels from constipation bloats you up until you gasp for breath, take a tablespoonful of Adlerika and notice how the stomach GAS is relieved almost at once. Adlerika often moves the bowels in less than two hours. Adlerika is BOTH carminative and cathartic, containing five carminatives to warm and soothe the stomach and expel GAS, and three cathartics to clear the bowels and relieve intestinal nerve pressure.

Pittsburgh Will Show Decrease In Population

PITTSBURGH, May 27—The 1940 census will turn today from nose counting in person to the addition of hundreds of thousands of figures and little check marks, which in the final capitulation may show a population loss of 20,000 to 40,000 for Pittsburgh and an increase in the county.

It was believed the principal areas of de-population in the city would be found in the Northside, and particularly in the Thirty-Second Congressional District.

As enumerators ceased to knock at doors, Area Manager Frew W. Konemann made a public appeal for persons who have not been included in the count to notify him by mail at his office in the Old Postoffice building. He pointed out that some persons have been missed, despite every effort to contact all.

SAN JUAN OPENS WAR ON AUTO HORN BLOWERS

(International News Service)

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—Tip for motorists—don't sound your horn in San Juan, largest city in the U. S. Territory of Puerto Rico.

Irked by the honking of automobile horns, San Juan civic leaders have opened a campaign to make San Juan the "City of Silent Motorists." The hove has the backing of insular officials, who promise stiff penalties to offenders if the campaign fails to halt the noise.

Stickers urging participation in the drive are being displayed on automobile windows.

"No abuse su klaxon," the stickers read. That in English means "Don't abuse your horn."

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 27.—Governor James is expected to announce within the near future defense measures which will be taken by the state to thwart subversive activities. The governor revealed that he is meeting from time to time with Adjutant General Edward Martin of the Pennsylvania National Guard and that the two have already discussed the formation of a "home guard."

Under a law enacted in 1917 and amended in 1937 the governor can establish a reserve militia, but not until the National Guard is mustered into active service. It is believed that the governor and Martin have under consideration a plan for a "home guard" which can be formed immediately.

The department of military affairs is brushing up on state laws which can be applied to the present situation. One of those unearthed is a law authorizing county commissioners to appropriate money to rifle clubs for their upkeep. It is estimated that there are 20,000 riflemen in the state.

What might have caused "unpleasant developments" was quickly remedied recently upon the demand of former U. S. Senator David A. Reed. The Pittsburgh Republican leader telegraphed State Chairman James F. Torrance that the copy of the resolution pledging the state delegation's support to Governor James for the G. O. P. presidential nomination failed to include an important amendment adopted by the delegates. The state committee hastily reinserted the amendment and sent out a correction to all delegates with the explanation that the error had been caused by an oversight. The amendment permits the delegation to switch their support to another candidate if Governor James does not show early strength.

Despite Governor James' disavowal, persistent reports on Capitol Hill are that the curtailment of the departmental budgets by the administration will result in the dismissal of numerous state employes. Many have already been dismissed in recent weeks and indications are that many more are slated to go within the next month.

Governor James' suggestion that Congress remain in session indefinitely now has received the support of Republican papers in general. Democratic papers have turned thumbs down on the idea. The governor is expected to press his suggestion still further on June 5 when he speaks over the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Church Crowds Hear Mission Preacher

Rev. Neil McIntyre, famed blind evangelist, tonight at eight will open his second week of gospel preaching at the City Rescue Mission. He will speak on a theme of particular interest to young people, "In Search of a Wife".

A large audience in Second U. P. church, County Line street, heard Rev. McIntyre last night as he spoke on a program with the student chorus of senior high school. Yesterday morning he spoke at Calvary tabernacle, and yesterday afternoon in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church.

Rev. McIntyre opened his campaign here last Tuesday.

ALL-GLASS HOUSE CITED AS TREND FOR NEW HOMES

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla.—America's log-cabin of the future is likely to be an "all-glass" house.

That was the conclusion of a group of architects, builders and contractors who recently previewed a small-home building development in Miami, Fla., where the liberal use of glass in window and door areas, structural glass, and plate glass mirrors was the architectural highlight.

This "new fashion in homes," architects say, calls for modern glass in a variety of installations, such as sliding glass walls to separate rooms or open the side of a house to the garden, patterned glasses for decorative window panels, sliding cabinet doors, and plate glass mirrors that will create illusions of large rooms.

JAPAN SEEKS TO MAKE NIPPONESE TALLER BY LAW

(International News Service)

TOKYO. — Japanese men and women, long recognized as rather diminutive in stature, are going to be bigger and better, by law if necessary.

In accordance with the law concerning physical development of the nation, passed at the recent session of the Diet, and which will go into effect July 1, the Japan Federation of Women's Associations is planning to impose physical tests on 2,000,000 unmarried girls ranging in age from 13 to 25 years. Preliminary tests will be held this fall.

The law, as passed by the Diet, first envisaged a program dealing only with boys from 9 to 17 years of age. This was done in hopes of keeping the cost of the program at a minimum. However, the women argue that sound and healthy womanhood is the first requisite of a strong, healthy and heavier populace and have started their own physical development move.

Redlegs Defeat Cardinals 4 To 0

Paul Derringer Hurls One-Hit Game As Reds Hang Up 20th Victory Of Year

By ED. KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 27.—As the baseball season neared its first quarter turn—Memorial Day—the main topic for discussion in the National league dugouts today was the steady pitching of Cincinnati's "terrific three"—Bucky Walters, Junior Thompson and Paul Derringer.

Last year this trio won 65 victories and the Reds won the pennant for the first time in 20 years. This year they already have amassed 16 triumphs and, because of this, the Rhinelanders at this writing are expected to have little trouble in annexing their second consecutive flag.

Pitches One-Hitter

The tip-off is that the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who are expected to provide the stiffest competition, are frantically bartering in both leagues in an attempt to bolster their attack. The Reds, meanwhile, seem perfectly content with their present payroll.

Yesterday the Rads rung up their 20th win and Paul Derringer issued an ominous warning by giving the powerhouse St. Louis Cardinals only one hit, a single by Stu Martin in the first. After that the Cards were helpless and the Reds collected 11 hits to win, 4 to 0.

Pee Wee Reese kept the Dodgers on top of the heap, however, by hitting his first major league home run in the 10th inning to send the Philadelphia Phillies to defeat, 2 to 1. The New York Giants hit five homers, two of them by Harry Danning, to trim the Boston Bees, 10 to 8, and last-place Pittsburgh Pirates made it two games in a row over the Chicago Cubs with a 3 to 2 victory.

Yanks Win Game

The New York Yankees, who have been having trouble beating the weakest of opposition, turned on the leading Boston Red Sox, smashing out 10 hits to gain a 7 to 2 win.

At the same time the Cleveland Indians moved to within a half game of the leaders by splitting a double-header with the St. Louis Browns. The Tribe lost the opener, 5 to 3, but came back in the nightcap to win easily, 13 to 1.

Johnny Welaj broke up a 10-inning pitching duel between George Caster and Willis Hudlin with a home run to give the Washington Senators a 4 to 3 edge over the Philadelphia Athletics. It was Hudlin's initial appearance for Washington. The Detroit at Chicago game was rained out.

Seek To Qualify For National Open

(International News Service)

On 25 courses throughout the country today an army of 1132 golfers started out on two rounds of competition that will bring disappointment to all but 139 of them by tomorrow sundown.

The 1132 hopefuls began two rounds of medal play in an attempt to qualify for the National Open championship at the Canterbury club, near Cleveland, June 6 to 8.

Only 139 places are open. Thirty-one players are exempt from the trials. They comprise the 30 low scores in last year's open and the home club pro. All the former open champions, among them Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen, must go through the qualifying round competition, not being included in the exemptions.

Ben Hogan goes into the qualifying round a tired contender. He only yesterday ended play in the 72 hole Metropolitan Open which followed right on the heels of the Goodall Round-Robin tourney in which he also contended.

Gerson Home Is Scene Of Party Saturday Night

Jack Gerson Gives Annual Party For Gerson Basketball Team, Get Sweaters

The home of Jack Gerson, 224 Winter avenue, Saturday night was the scene of a very lovely party honoring the members of the Gerson basketball team. There were over 25 present.

Sam Frank acted as toastmaster of the occasion and called on the following for talks: Jack Gerson, Coach Mike Kulich, Sid Lockley, Ray Wallace and A. R. Conn.

The menu consisted of all manner of delicious sandwiches, pickles, olives, cake and most everything in the buffet line. The food was prepared by Mrs. Jack Gerson. There were plenty of tasty sandwiches for everybody.

The climax of the evening came when Jack Gerson presented each of the players on the team and also the managers and coach with fine sweaters as a token of his appreciation.

Players Get Sweaters

The following players and coaches receved sweaters: Coach Mike Kulich, Walter Perch, manager, Joe Bararowicz, manager, Johnny Uram, Gabby Kendra, Rags Gennock, Nick Gennock, Sammy Bullano, Harry Hordig, Alec Parou, Teplica and Laitenen.

Special guests present were: Herman Hurwitz of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gerson of Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Levine of Ellwood City, Herman Yossen, Clayton Hall, Ernest Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mirow, Sid Lockley, Joe Factor, A. R. Conn, Ray Wallace and Charles "Bugs" Walther.

The party was one of the most delightful ever staged by the genial host, Mr. Gerson. Cards formed the main diversion of the evening. The boys are eagerly looking forward to the banquet next year.

Sports World Ramblings

Marshall's case cleared....Henry Marshall's failure to make the "grade" with the strong Indianapolis club of the American Association league, which caused considerable speculation locally, is clearly explained in a letter penned by Leo T. Miller, president of the Indianapolis Baseball club.

Miller at bat: "In regard to Henry Marshall's ability, in the two seasons he has played, he has demonstrated that he is deserving of an opportunity in a higher classification than he has played. (Marshall starred with the Erie Sailors of the Mid-Atlantic league. His showing with the Indians' farm club caused Indianapolis to give the Hillsville athlete a trial this spring.)

"The real reason he was not retained by us was that we kept four outfielders, two with major league experience, and all of them with considerably more experience beyond Henry's. The only thing I see this lad would have to overcome would be the fact that he is small. But, even so, there have been some very good big 'small' performers."

Diamond jottings....One reason why the Yankees are nose diving: Exclusive of games played over the week-end, the champs had propelled but 18 home runs...Minneapolis, the junior bombers of baseball, rapped out 34 homers in their first 21 tiffs. ..For serving as field captain of the Boston Red Sox, Jimmy Foxx draws an additional $600.

Vince DiMaggio's case is perplexing. One of the greatest outfielders in the business, the new Pirate player can't, literally speaking, hit the side of a barn with a shovel, at lease in the majors. He caused such a draft in Boston that the Bees shipped him to the Kansas City club. In the A. A., DiMaggio found the right kind of pitching, poling out 46 homers.

Cincinnati grabbed him and used him during the waning weeks of the flag race. He whiffed 10 times in a row. The Reds recently traded him to Pittsburgh. The "strike out" complex is plaguing Vince again. Unless he cures the ailment, he may get another ride down the minor rails. His short major league career shows that he has struck out four times in one game on five different occasions. With some of the power that his brother Joe has, Vince would be on top.

The Phillies aided the Reds to cop last year's banner. The Phils went down 19 out of 22 times....Jimmy Foxx, who gets better with age, has whacked two or more homers in a single tiff 54 times...Newhouser, Detroit's upcoming southpaw flinger, is a switch hitter...This year's all-star game will be played in St. Louis July 9.

Rookie Crop Is Fine This Year

Most Every One Of Big League Teams Have Grabbed Off Promising Rookies

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 27.—There are no Ty Cobbs, Babe Ruths or Walter Johnsons among this year's crop of rookies, but a canvass of National league managers and coaches today discloses that there are more than the usual number of youngsters making good under the big top.

Strangely enough, the consensus is that the Phillies have come up with three of the best and at practically no more cost than their railroad fare to Philadelphia.

These three are Bob Bragan, a sparkling shortstop who jumped from class D; Art Mahan, a first baseman, who seems to have what it takes, and Clyde Smoll, a left-hander, who hasn't shown much yet but who, rival managers say, can't miss being a success with another month's experience under fire.

Terry Likes Glossop

Bill Terry is high on Babe Young, the Giants' hard-hitting first baseman, and seems to think more highly of Al Glossop than he does the more highly-priced Nick Witek at second. Glossop was considered more or less a window dressing at the training camp, but when given his chance, he proceeded to deliver a first class job alongside Young. Johnny Rucker hasn't burned up the outer pastures but Terry thinks it is only a question of time until he finds himself.

Leo Durocher, the Dodger boss, thinks the world of Hal Reese, his successor at shortstop, but he is almost equally sold on Newell Kimball, his young right hand pitcher; Charley Gilbert, his center fielder, and Herman Franks, a fine looking young catcher. Kimball, Franks and Gilbert were ticketed for more seasoning in the minors when they joined the club, but they made such fast progress, the Dodgers simply had to keep them.

Pirates Like Gustine

Casey Stengel thinks he has a coming star in Nick Strincevich, a right hand thrower, and Chet Ross, a new outfielder, while no ball of fire in the field, has been knocking down the fences for Boston.

The Pirates believe they have the outstanding second base rookie of the year in Frank Gustine, who to date has been hitting at a .358 clip and they expect big things from Outfielder Maurice Van Robays who is hitting .309.

Gabby Hartnett has been disappointed in his young outfielders but he is strong for his two young left handed pitchers, Vern Olsen and Ken Raffensberger.

Joe Orengo, the Cardinals' new shortstop, has been banging away at a .371 pace and when the injured Martin Marion gets back on the job, the club may be ready to go places.

And the Reds are getting results from Pitcher Joe Beggs and Outfielder Mike McCormick, both of whom are probably better than they have shown thus far.

Taking them by and large this is a pretty fair showing and a team composed of Franks, catcher; Beggs, Strincevich, Olsen and Kimball, pitchers; Young, Gustine, Orengo and Reese, infielders, and Ross, Van Robays and McCormick, outfielders, could give any club a battle.

Legion Juniors Top Zelienople

All Stars Mark Second Victory In Three Starts In Close Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—The Ellwood City Legion Junior All Stars won their second game in three starts by defeating the Zelienople Legion Juniors by a 7 to 5 count Saturday afternoon at Ewing Park. The locals took an early lead and stopped a late inning rally by the visitors short of its goal.

The locals started their scoring in the first inning by converting doubles, a triple and an opposition misplay into three runs. The visitors gained an unearned marker in the fourth when a walk and a single were followed by two consecutive bobbles by the local infield. Zelienople rallied in the sixth and combined five safeties and a walk to add four counters, making the final total 7 to 5.

Matrongol with a double and two singles, and Seetch with two triples, were the game's leading hitters. Smiley of the locals smacked a two-base blow.

Tre Ellwood City Legion team will meet Evans City at Ewing Park on Saturday, June 1, at 2 p. m.

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—A most successful Poppy Day sale was held on Saturday by the Veterans of Foreign Wars post and auxiliary with some 4500 little red flowers being sold for the benefit of disabled veterans and other relief work.

Twenty-five girls sold the poppies with each one being given a reward for her sales. Miss Norma Turner had the honor of taking in the most money. The workers were served a delicious dinner at noon by the auxiliary.

Mrs. Ray Miller and Joe Wiley were co-chairmen of the sale.

Union Memorial Service Sunday

Address Is Made By Rev. W. E. Minteer At U. P. Church Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—Tribute to those who counted life not too dear for sacrifice on the nation's altar on behalf of others was paid in a fitting and appropriate manner last evening at the First United Presbyterian church when the churches of the community joined the patriotic organizations for a combined union Memorial service.

Rev. W. E. Minteer, pastor of the church, brought the thoughtful message to the large assemblage and was assisted in the service by Dr. A. M. Stevenson and Rev. T. H. Carson.

The pastor's text was taken from Romans 13-7, "Render to all their dues, honor to whom honor." America is one of the great nations of the earth, the pastor began, and it was all brought about in some 300 years. "We are a nation of privileges, let us not forget the price it cost our fathers to build the foundation of a Christian nation that we might be free and independent people," he continued. Stating that there are internal sources at work to dethrone the democracy of this city, Rev. Minteer declared that the principles of liberty must be guarded.

The course of American soldiers from Bunker Hill to Valley Forge, to Manilla Bay to Flanders Field was effectively traced by the speaker who asked that "we may be as brave in fighting good causes."

"We long for universal peace,' emphasized the speaker who said that if all the American soldiers who died in the World War were laid side to side it would form a road-bed from New York to San Francisco and back again to Chicago and it would take a car averaging 30 miles an hour seven days and seven nights to pass the dead not mentioning those hopelessly confined to hospitals and institutions. "The future is vastly more terrible," he continued and added that no one would stop federal defense when other unscrupulous nations are fully armed.

There are only two ways that universal peace will ever be obtained, first, world-wide recognition of a common humanity, that all men are children of one God; and second, the acceptance of the Golden Rule by all nations and all leaders, Rev. Minteer concluded.

The complete program follows:
Organ Prelude.
ible Song—"Come Thou Almighty King."
Invocation.
Bible Song—"Come Thou Almighty World."
Scripture Lesson—Rev. T. H. Carson.
Bible Song — "Onward Christian Soldiers."
Evening Prayer—Dr. A. M. Stevenson.
Anthem—"Blessed Is The Nation."
Sermon—"Honor To Whom Honor Is Due."
Bible Song—"My Country 'Tis of Thee."
Benediction.
Organ Postlude.

STOCKS

Stock Market Higher Today

Market Continues Advanced As New Week Dawns, Some Stocks Up 1 To 2 Points

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, May 27.—The stock market continued to recover today, leaders adding as much as 2 points to Saturday's rally and some of the blue-chips rising as much as 4. Trading, however, was at an extremely slow pace.

Steels, aviations, coppers and chemicals chalked up the widest gains. Steel shares ran up 1 to more than 2 points in Bethlehem and U. S. Steel.

Case was the individual feature on a spurt of 4 points, while DuPont jumped 3½. U. S. Smelting was 3 points above its previous close.

Gains of a point or more were sprinkled liberally throughout the market.

Included were those for Boeing, Lockheed, United Aircraft, Glenn L. Martin and North American Aviation; Allied Chemical, Dow and Air Reduction in the chemicals; Anaconda and Kennecott in the coppers; Sears Roebuck in the mail orders; Loew's in the amusements; Westinghouse Electric; American Car & Foundry; U. S. Rubber and Santa Fe in the rails. Union Pacific climbed better than 2 points.

General Motors gained a fraction, after opening off ⅛, while Chrysler ruled about a point higher. Utilities held slightly above Saturday's closings. Most oils displayed easier tendencies.

International Harvester dropped a point, while Pullman and Union Carbide lost half as much.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Did you have a nice, quiet week-end . . . or did you travel all over the country and find it necessary to rest for a couple of days . . . either way . . . be thankful you are living over here where you can do as you please.

We have another dog to give away . . . this one can be found at the following home: Mrs. Walter Park, 333 Neshannock avenue, phone 347J . . . It is a small, black "just" dog, female. Make fine pet.

Maybe we have used this little poem before, but we think it can stand repeating.

If you want to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind.
For there's nothing that's really new,
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town.
It isn't your town, it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid
Lest somebody else get ahead;
When everybody works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.
And if when you make your personal stake
Your neighbor can make one, too,
Your town will be what you want to see.
It isn't your town, it's you.

The traffic police were on their toes last Saturday . . . not that we personally witnessed their actions, but when you hear motorists talking about it, then you know that action is going on. We are glad to hear it, because some of the traffic tieups that occur on a Saturday are something to think about, especially if a fire should break out in the downtown area.

Berlin Claims British Plot On Refugee Ship

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 27. — The Reich government today maintained constant contact with the United States embassy in an effort, authentic government spokesmen said, to prevent the British sinking of the United States liner Roosevelt.

The liner, loaded with refugees, will sail from Galway, Ireland, for New York next week.

The Reich government informed the United States embassy that it has definite proof of a plot by English Prime Minister Winston Churchill to sink the ship.

His purpose, qualified government spokesmen maintained, is to "arouse public indignation and fury among the American people and thus precipitate the nation into war on the side of Great Britain."

Official quarters revealed the government is "taking every step to prevent the incident" and is maintaining constant touch with the United States embassy.

LONDON, May 27. — The Berlin radio issued a charge that the British are planning to sink the United States liner President Roosevelt, according to a Reuters (British) News Agency message today.

WILD LIFE CENSUS

(International News Service)

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo.— As census returns for the entire nation pile up in Washington, rangers in Yellowstone National Park have completed another kind of census— an annual count of the wild life in the area. A report by Chief Ranger F. D. LaNoue, reveals that there are 272 mountain sheep, 1,114 deer, and 811 antelope in the park area. The census revealed that wild life in the park has increased nearly 100 per cent in the last five years.
